MODULE 1: THE SENTENCE

SENTENCE SENSE

- 1a A sentence is a group of words that expresses a complete thought. A sentence begins with a capital letter and ends with a period, a question mark, or an exclamation point.

EXAMPLES The writing lab has several new computers.
 Please be on time for play rehearsal.
 Have you read the module on the Civil War?
 Stop the car now!

- 1b A declarative sentence makes a statement. It is always followed by a period.

EXAMPLES Shanti was elected class president two years in a row.
 Here are two more suggestions.

- 1c An imperative sentence gives a command or makes a request. It is usually followed by a period. A strong command is followed by an exclamation point.

The subject of a command or a request is always you, but you doesn't usually appear in the sentence. When you is absent, it is called the understood subject. You is the understood subject even when the person is addressed by name.

EXAMPLES [You] Please shut the window.
 [You] Watch out!
 Rosaria, [you] please read the first two sentences aloud.

- 1d An interrogative sentence asks a question. It is followed by a question mark.

EXAMPLES How did you know my name?
 Do you live in Canada?

- 1e An exclamatory sentence shows excitement or expresses strong feeling. It is followed by an exclamation point.

EXAMPLES What an exciting soccer game that was!
 I can't believe we are finally at the cabin!

EXERCISE 1 Identifying Sentences

On the line before each item, write S if the group of words is a sentence or NS if it is not a sentence. If it is a sentence, add correct punctuation.

EX. NS Whenever she rides her mountain bike

S Alana wears her helmet whenever she rides her mountain bike.

- 1. Before the music began to play
- 2. Did Brad send Danielle a bouquet of yellow roses
- 3. Listening to the distant sound of thunder and seeing lightning crack across the nighttime sky
- 4. There is a way out of the tunnel
- 5. There wasn't much left to eat by the time Malcolm arrived
- 6. Dr. García uses all the latest equipment in her dental practice
- 7. Walking to the party
- 8. Tyrone sat on the beach because he had broken his ankle
- 9. Imagine what could happen in the future
- 10. Where did I put my library card

EXERCISE 2 Classifying and Punctuating Sentences

Classify each of the following sentences by writing D for declarative, IMP for imperative, INT for interrogative, or E for exclamatory on the line before the sentence. Then add the correct punctuation.

EX. E How loud that music is!

- 1. Every year, the island loses sand to the shifting tides and shrinks by an inch or two
- 2. What a frightening experience that was
- 3. Hang up your coat in the front closet
- 4. I can't believe how close to us that dolphin swam
- 5. Were you able to answer all the questions on that test

MODULE 1: THE SENTENCE

RUN-ON SENTENCES

1f A run-on sentence is two complete sentences punctuated as one sentence.

In a run-on, the thoughts run into each other. The reader cannot tell where one idea ends and another begins.

RUN-ON	Latanya is a finalist in the tennis tournament, let's watch the match tomorrow.
CORRECT	Latanya is a finalist in the tennis tournament. L et's watch the match tomorrow.
RUN-ON	Latanya plays basketball she's also on the tennis team.
CORRECT	Latanya plays basketball, a nd she's also on the tennis team.

To spot run-ons, read your writing aloud. A natural, distinct pause in your voice usually marks the end of one thought and the beginning of another. If you pause at a place where you don't have any end punctuation, you may have found a run-on sentence.

To revise run-on sentences, use one of the following methods.

(1) Make two sentences.

RUN-ON	Charles Drew was a doctor and a teacher he taught at Howard University.
CORRECT	Charles Drew was a doctor and a teacher. H e taught at Howard University.

(2) Use a comma and a coordinating conjunction (and, but, or, so, because, since).

RUN-ON	Drew taught classes, he performed operations.
CORRECT	Drew taught classes, a nd he performed operations.

FYI A comma marks a brief pause in a sentence, but it does not show the end of a sentence. Always use a conjunction with a comma between complete ideas.

RUN-ON	Drew was a pioneer in blood research, he experimented with plasma.
CORRECT	Drew was a pioneer in blood research, a nd he experimented with plasma.

EXERCISE 3 Identifying and Revising Run-ons

Rewrite each run-on sentence correctly. You can rewrite it as two sentences or use a comma and a coordinating conjunction.

EX. Tony Garulo has a farm he raises miniature horses there.
Tony Garulo has a farm. He raises miniature horses there.

1. The farm is in Pennsylvania it is near the city of Gettysburg.

2. Garulo went to Argentina he learned about Falabella horses there.

3. They look just like full-sized horses they are the size of dogs.

4. They are very tame they seem to enjoy performing.

5. Visitors can watch the horses jump, these animals also dance and pull tiny wagons.

EXERCISE 4 Revising to Correct Run-Ons

Rewrite the paragraph below to correct the run-on sentences.

Our class went on a spring trip to Baltimore, Maryland, it was really fun. In the morning, we strolled along the Inner Harbor and looked at all the sailboats, we saw a tropical rain forest and a coral reef at the National Aquarium in Baltimore. Later, we visited Fort McHenry, the flag waving over this fort gave Francis Scott Key the idea to write "The Star-Spangled Banner." Finally, we toured the USS Constellation, one of the first U.S. warships, it was built in 1797.

MODULE 1: THE SENTENCE

THE SUBJECT

1g The subject tells whom or what the sentence is about.

To find the subject of a sentence, ask who or what is doing something or whom or what is being talked about. The subject may come at the beginning, the middle, or the end of a sentence.

EXAMPLES On his trip to the Amazon rain forest, Mr. Bergeron took hundreds of photographs. [Who took photographs? Mr. Bergeron did.]

Hanging from the thick tree branch was a hairy sloth. [What was hanging from the tree branch? A hairy sloth was.]

The rain forest is the habitat of many interesting animals. [What is being talked about? The rain forest is.]

1h The complete subject consists of all the words needed to tell whom or what a sentence is about. The simple subject is the main word or words in the complete subject.

EXAMPLE	That spiny little creature is a hedgehog.
COMPLETE SUBJECT	That spiny little creature
SIMPLE SUBJECT	creature

EXAMPLE	Does Groundhog Day in the United States fall on February 2?
COMPLETE SUBJECT	Groundhog Day in the United States
SIMPLE SUBJECT	Groundhog Day

NOTE In this module, the term subject means the simple subject unless it is defined otherwise.

EXERCISE 5 Identifying Subjects

Underline the simple subject in each of the following sentences.

EX. The rain forest supports a tremendous diversity of life.

1. Many scientists are now studying rain forest plants.
2. The National Cancer Institute knows of over 2,000 rain forest plants with cancer-fighting properties.

3. In her report, Jenna explained the effect of the rain forest on the weather.
4. The rain forest in the Amazon region influences the rainfall there.
5. “El Yunque” is the name of a rain forest in Puerto Rico.
6. With its fierce winds, Hurricane Hugo practically eliminated the Puerto Rican parrot from El Yunque.
7. Roaming the rain forests of New Guinea are huge, ferocious birds called cassowaries.
8. Standing almost as tall as a human, cassowaries have wings but can’t fly.
9. The female cassowary lays four to eight green eggs on the forest floor.
10. Do people know enough about ways to preserve the world’s rain forests?

EXERCISE 6 Identifying Complete Subjects and Simple Subjects

Underline the complete subject in each sentence. Then draw a second line under the simple subject.

EX. Our history teacher told us about the Shona people.

1. The people of this culture lived in southern Africa many years ago.
2. The buildings of their capital city still stand today.
3. The capital, called Great Zimbabwe, lies near the Sabi River.
4. More than ten thousand people may have lived in the capital city.
5. Every year, fascinated tourists come to this home of one of the great cultures of the ancient world.

MODULE 1: THE SENTENCE

THE PREDICATE

1i The predicate consists of all the words that are not part of the complete subject.

Like the subject, the predicate may be found anywhere in a sentence.

EXAMPLES The Lincoln Memorial is a national monument.
 High above all the other buildings in Washington, D.C., stands the Washington Monument.
 Throughout the city, we saw historic sites.

1j The verb, or simple predicate is the main word or phrase doing the action in the complete predicate.

EXAMPLE	The author autographed copies of his latest book.
PREDICATE	autographed copies of his latest book
(VERB)	autographed

A verb phrase has a main verb and one or more helping verbs. Helping verbs include will, can, do, should, would, could, and forms of the verbs be and have.

NOTE The words not and never are adverbs, not verbs. They are never part of a verb or verb phrase.

EXERCISE 7 Identifying Predicates

Underline the complete predicate in each of the following sentences.

EX. On July 4, 1986, Americans celebrated the birthday of the Statue of Liberty.

1. Two million people gathered along the shore of New York Harbor.
2. The occasion was the hundredth birthday of Lady Liberty.
3. For the big event, workers repaired the statue.
4. The repairs cost more than 69 million dollars.
5. The Statue of Liberty was ready for her birthday party.
6. She had new elevators, a new torch, and a repaired crown.
7. At the celebration, spectators saw a dazzling display of fireworks.
8. Forty thousand fireworks soared into the sky over the harbor.
9. From the enormous crowd of people came a loud chorus of cheers and applause.
10. This was one of the largest displays of fireworks in the history of the United States.

EXERCISE 8 Identifying Complete Predicates and Verbs

Underline the complete predicate in each sentence. Then write the verb or verb phrase on the line following the sentence.

EX. You should have brought pictures of your vacation.

should have brought

1. A local actor and comedian writes funny stories about her childhood.

2. The library will be closed on Fridays during the summer.

3. The boys want pizza and salad for supper.

4. I can never remember how to fold an origami crane.

5. Put the dirty dishes in the sink.

COMPOUND SUBJECTS AND COMPOUND VERBS

1k A compound subject consists of two or more subjects that have the same verb. The subjects are usually connected by and or or.

EXAMPLES The bear and the badger hibernate in the winter. [Bear and badger are both subjects of the verb hibernate. The two parts of the subject are connected by and.]

Freda, Thomas, or his sister will babysit for the Grants. [Freda, Thomas, and sister are all subjects of the verb phrase will babysit. The three parts of the subject are connected by or.]

1l A compound verb consists of two or more connected verbs that have the same subject. A connecting word—usually and, or, or but—is used to join the verbs.

EXAMPLES Kim trained hard and then worked as a camp counselor. [Both verbs, trained and worked, have the same subject, Kim.]

Namir may set the table, serve the meal, or wash the dishes. [Namir is the subject of the verbs may set, serve, and wash.]

Sometimes the subject of a sentence is difficult to locate. In such cases, find the verb first and then ask yourself whom or what the verb describes.

EXAMPLES In English class, we are reading poetry. [The verb phrase is are reading. Who are reading? We are reading. We is the subject of the sentence.]

In the bowl were ripe fruit and cheese sticks. [Were is the verb. What were in the bowl? The answer is fruit and sticks. Fruit and sticks are the subjects.]

EXERCISE 9 Identifying Compound Subjects

Circle the verb and underline the compound subject in each sentence.

EX. Nutrition and health are interesting topics.

1. Apples and oranges are healthy choices for a snack.
2. Vitamin C and dietary fiber are found in apples.
3. However, oranges and the juice of oranges contain five times as much vitamin C.
4. Iron and vitamins are plentiful in whole wheat bread.
5. White eggs and brown eggs are equally nutritious.

EXERCISE 10 Identifying Compound Verbs

In each sentence, circle the verbs or verb phrases that make up the compound verb and underline the subject, which may be single or compound.

EX. Some people can operate huge machines but will not touch a computer.

1. The sun gives light and provides warmth.
2. Baby penguins stand on their parents' feet and cuddle.
3. John bought tickets but never arrived for the play.
4. Dodo birds and dinosaurs once existed but now are extinct.
5. In late autumn, the leaves on the oak tree turn bright red and fall to the ground.
6. Staple or clip the pages of your report together.
7. The Titanic hit an iceberg and sank.
8. The math problems looked hard but were really very simple.
9. Will Tamika or Jaylon drive us to the movie and take us home later?
10. Magda read the book and then wrote a review of it for the school website.

MODULE 1: THE SENTENCE

MODULE REVIEW

A. Identifying Sentences by Purpose

On the line before each sentence, identify it by writing D for declarative, IMP for imperative, INT for interrogative, or E for exclamatory. Then add the correct punctuation mark.

EX. INT Would you rather see a movie about baseball or watch a baseball game?

- _____ 1. Deval, use that remote to turn on the television
- _____ 2. There are so many great movies to choose from
- _____ 3. Would you like to pick a movie for us to watch
- _____ 4. I can make some popcorn while you decide
- _____ 5. Don't touch that hot bag yet

B. Identifying Complete Subjects and Complete Predicates

Underline the complete subjects once and the complete predicates twice in the following sentences.

EX. The entire population of the city welcomed the winning team back home.

- 1. The baseball team had never won a championship in the history of our school.
- 2. During the season, the players and coaches worked hard.
- 3. Their dedication to the game was obvious.
- 4. Among their greatest achievements was perfect attendance by each player.
- 5. People in this town may never again feel such pride and joy.

C. Identifying Simple Subjects and Verbs

In each sentence, underline the simple subject once and the verb or verb phrase twice.

EX. Dorothea Dix became a schoolteacher at the age of fourteen.

- 1. This amazing woman also wrote children's books.
- 2. In 1841, she visited a jail in Massachusetts.
- 3. The jail housed not only criminals but also people with mental illness.
- 4. The Massachusetts schoolteacher was horrified.
- 5. Because of Dix's work, states built proper hospitals for people with mental health problems.

D. Using Compound Subjects and Compound Verbs in Writing

Imagine that you live in the year 2300. You have been on a long journey into space. On the lines below, write notes for a log that tells about your experience. Write your notes in sentence form. Include and label at least five compound subjects and five compound verbs in your notes. These are some of the questions you might answer:

1. What did you see on your journey?
2. Did you make any stops? If so, where?
3. What was the most unusual experience you had on your journey?
4. What was the most amusing thing that occurred on the journey?
5. What was the most frightening thing that happened on your journey?

comp. verb

EX. June 14, 2300—After 25 days in space, we saw and photographed an amazing meteor collision.

This image shows a single sheet of white paper with horizontal ruling lines. The lines are evenly spaced and run across the width of the page. There are no margins, text, or other markings on the paper.

MODULE 2: PARTS OF SPEECH

NOUNS

Words in the English language are classified into groups according to the jobs they perform in sentences. These groups are called the eight parts of speech: nouns, pronouns, adjectives, verbs, adverbs, prepositions, conjunctions, and interjections.

2a A noun is a word that names a person, place, thing, or idea.

Persons	Yo-Yo Ma, children, choir
Places	Utah, desert, restaurant, island
Things	llama, money, plants, Nobel Prize
Ideas	truth, justice, love, freedom

2b A proper noun is a specific name for a particular person, place, thing, or idea. It always begins with a capital letter. A common noun is a general name for a kind of person, place, thing, or idea. It is not capitalized.

Proper Nouns	Common Nouns
Michelangelo	painter
South America	continent
USA Today	newspaper
Jason Reynolds	author

Notice that some nouns are made up of more than one word. Such nouns are called compound nouns. As the following examples show, the parts of a compound noun may be joined or written separately.

EXAMPLES	tablecloth	Hollywood	Abraham Lincoln
	brother-in-law	high school	Labor Day

2c A concrete noun names a person, place, or thing that can be perceived by one or more of the senses (sight, hearing, taste, touch, and smell). An abstract noun names an idea, a feeling, a quality, or a characteristic.

Concrete Nouns	sea, drumbeat, yogurt, deer, roses
Abstract Nouns	loyalty, curiosity, health, grace, sweetness

EXERCISE 1 Identifying and Classifying Nouns

Underline each noun in the sentences below. Then, on the line before each sentence, write C if the noun is concrete or A if it is abstract. If there is more than one noun in a sentence, separate your answers with a semicolon.

EX. C; C The jellyfish is an unusual animal.

1. I feel joy each time I walk on the beach.
2. The Milky Way contains several hundred billion stars.
3. Harriet thought an eternity had passed.
4. Lois Weber was among the pioneers in making movies.
5. In ancient Greece, winning athletes were awarded a leafy crown.

EXERCISE 2 Revising Sentences by Using Proper Nouns

Revise each sentence by substituting a proper noun for each common noun. You may need to change some of the other words in the sentence. You may also make up proper names.

EX. My parrot sounds just like my uncle. _____
Paco sounds just like Uncle Mort. _____

1. The president traveled to his hometown. _____

2. That novel was written by my best friend. _____

3. A story about a large building was in the newspaper. _____

4. This popular actress stars in a remake of an animated movie. _____

5. My cousin moved to a city in a faraway country. _____

MODULE 2: PARTS OF SPEECH

PRONOUNS

2d A pronoun is a word used in place of a noun or more than one noun.

EXAMPLE Gather the chickens and put the chickens in the henhouse.
Gather the chickens and put them in the henhouse.

Pronouns can be singular or plural, depending on the noun or nouns they replace.

Singular	I, me, my, mine, you, your, yours, he, him, his, she, her, hers, it, its, myself, yourself, himself, herself, itself, this, that, everybody, someone
Plural	we, us, our, ours, you, your, yours, they, them, their, theirs, ourselves, yourselves, themselves, these, those

An antecedent is the word that a pronoun stands for (or refers to).

EXAMPLE Because the senator thought the crowd looked bored, she finished her speech early. [Senator is the noun that she and her refer to.]

Sometimes, an antecedent is not stated.

EXAMPLES I hoped Kameron would enjoy our party.
Francis wondered who was at the door.

NOTE The pronouns they, them, their, and theirs are usually plural, but they can sometimes be used informally to refer to a single person. They may also refer to a person who uses these pronouns.

EXERCISE 3 Identifying Pronouns and Antecedents

Underline all pronouns in the following sentences. Put two lines under the antecedent of each pronoun. Write none above any pronoun that has no antecedent.

EX. Leo said that he would run the business.

1. Startled by its own shadow, the pony slipped out of its halter.
2. Mr. Chisholm spent most of his vacation at the beach.
3. Please buy the red flowers, because they are the most colorful.

4. Because he was so tired from chopping wood, the lumberjack took his lunch break early.
5. Rafael said, "I am ready to go home now."
6. "For some reason, I thought New Hampshire was in the other direction," said Jaime.
7. Abuelo won the race in his age group.
8. "Adam, you should clean your room thoroughly before you go out," said Mom.
9. Jason said, "Alejandro, do you want to ride with me?"
10. I asked Andrés if he had done his homework.

EXERCISE 4 Identifying Nouns and Pronouns

Rewrite each sentence, replacing the underlined words or phrases with pronouns. [Note: If necessary, rearrange some of the words.]

- EX. Leonardo da Vinci was a great painter, but Leonardo da Vinci was also an inventor.
Leonardo da Vinci was a great painter, but he was also an inventor.
1. Leonardo da Vinci painted Leonardo da Vinci's masterpiece the Mona Lisa in the early 1500s. _____
 2. Some people disagree about the real name of the painting Mona Lisa—the real name of the painting could be La Gioconda. _____
 3. Lisa del Giocondo was the model for the painting, and Lisa del Giocondo was an Italian noblewoman. _____
 4. Because Mona Lisa's smile is unusual, Mona Lisa's smile has caused many arguments. _____
 5. Because many painters wanted to paint like da Vinci, many painters copied da Vinci's masterpiece. _____

MODULE 2: PARTS OF SPEECH

ADJECTIVES

2e An adjective is a word that modifies a noun or a pronoun.

To modify a word means to describe the word or to make its meaning more definite. An adjective modifies a noun or a pronoun by telling what kind, which one, how much, or how many.

What Kind?	Which One or Ones?	How Many or How Much?
long weekend fast skates cheerful nurse	last year his toys our friend	thirty days no wheels ninety people

NOTE A possessive form of a pronoun (such as our, your, his, and their) modifies a noun by answering the question Whose? Because a possessive pronoun functions as an adjective, it may be labeled as both a pronoun and an adjective.

Sometimes an adjective comes after the word that it modifies.

EXAMPLE The play was funny. [The adjective funny modifies play.]

When a noun modifies another noun or a pronoun, it is considered an adjective.

Nouns	Nouns Used as Adjectives school	school calendar summer	summer storm
city	city lights
turkey	turkey dinner

NOTE The words a, an, and the are called articles. A and an are called indefinite articles because they refer to someone or something in general. The is called a definite article because it refers to someone or something in particular.

EXERCISE 5 Identifying Adjectives

Underline the adjectives in the sentences below, and draw two lines under the noun or pronoun each adjective modifies. Do not include the articles a, an, and the.

EX. Many students rode on the purple bus.

1. Most tornadoes occur on hot, humid days.
2. When we toured the city, we saw shiny new skyscrapers next to old historical buildings.
3. Summer temperatures lasted for only two months.
4. She saw many stars in the clear sky.
5. The moon weighs 81 billion tons.

EXERCISE 6 Using Nouns as Adjectives

Pick four words from the list below. For each word, write two sentences on the lines provided. Use each word first as a noun, then as an adjective.

EX. annual The annuals in our garden are daisies.
 The annual picnic always attracts a large crowd.

dress	wood	committee	boat	Lincoln	scratch
blue	Texas	seafood	speech	cat	flower

MODULE 2: PARTS OF SPEECH

DEMONSTRATIVE AND PROPER ADJECTIVES

- 2f This, that, these, and those can be used both as adjectives and as pronouns. When they modify a noun, they are called demonstrative adjectives. When they are used alone, they are called demonstrative pronouns.

Demonstrative Adjectives	How long did it take you to come to this conclusion about that subject? These pearls are superior to those pearls.
Demonstrative Pronouns	This came from Tanzania, and that came from Zambia. These belong with those .

- 2g A proper adjective is formed from a proper noun.

Proper Nouns	Proper Adjectives
Poland	Polish hat
Fourth of July	Fourth of July cookout
Galileo	Galilean method
Asia	Asian countries

EXERCISE 7 Identifying Demonstrative Adjectives and Pronouns

In each sentence, underline demonstrative adjectives once and underline demonstrative pronouns twice.

EX. This is a story about those bears.

1. The weather has been very hot in this part of the state.
2. That chair beside the table was made by my grandfather.
3. Fruit is my favorite food during this time of year.
4. Those who wish to go to the beach should follow this path.
5. These basketball sneakers were made by a local company.

EXERCISE 8 Identifying Common and Proper Adjectives

In the following paragraph, underline the common adjectives once and underline the proper adjectives twice. Do not include the articles a, an, and the.

EX. Denim jeans originated in an Italian town.

[1] There, a cotton cloth similar to denim was used to make work clothes. [2] The town, Genoa, was known to French weavers as Genes. [3] An immigrant tailor, Levi Strauss, came to San Francisco during the 1850s and sold heavy canvas for making tents. [4] He realized that the gold miners quickly wore out their trousers from the hard work. [5] Strauss made many overalls for the miners from his heavy-duty fabric. [6] After a few years, he replaced this canvas material with a softer fabric, denim. [7] Strauss borrowed an idea from a Russian Jewish tailor to strengthen the pockets by adding copper rivets at the pocket seams. [8] He used blue fabric so that stains would not show. [9] The San Francisco denim became quite famous. [10] In 1935, these practical trousers became popular when a fashion magazine ran an advertisement for them.

MODULE 2: PARTS OF SPEECH

MODULE REVIEW

A. Identifying Nouns, Pronouns, and Adjectives

Identify each italicized word in the sentences below by writing N for a noun, P for a pronoun, or A for an adjective on the lines before the sentences. Separate your answers with a semicolon.

EX. N; P or A Laverne spent many hours practicing her speech.

- _____ 1. The construction workers stopped for a lunch break.
- _____ 2. If history repeats itself, we are in for one big surprise.
- _____ 3. When you are thirsty, heat becomes less bearable.
- _____ 4. After the celebration, Jiro walked to the train station.
- _____ 5. In swimming, the front crawl used to be called the Australian crawl.
- _____ 6. Tasmania is part of Australia.
- _____ 7. The Tasmanian devil has black fur with white patches.
- _____ 8. Did Picasso paint this picture or sculpt that monument?
- _____ 9. Did you buy a British novel?
- _____ 10. Even though he is reading that speech, the ideas in it are from Maggie.

B. Identifying Pronouns and Antecedents

In the sentences below, underline each pronoun once, and double underline its antecedent.
[Note: A sentence may have more than one pronoun.]

- EX. The director said that she would promote the play with a series of social media posts.
1. Adriana, are you going fishing?
 2. Louis Armstrong, known to his fans as "Satchmo," had a brilliant smile.
 3. We, the performers, have decided to override the director's decision.
 4. Ask Wenona if she brought her sandwiches for the picnic.
 5. "I built that castle myself," said the small boy.

C. Identifying Adjectives

In the following paragraph, underline the adjectives once, and underline the words that they modify twice. Do not include a, an, and the.

EX. The popular author James Herriot wrote several books.

[1] One excellent book was made into a popular television series. [2] The setting for Herriot's powerful stories is beautiful Yorkshire, England, where the grassy hills make a rich background for several memorable characters. [3] All the major characters are not humans, though. [4] Because Herriot was a real-life veterinarian, most of these outstanding stories feature animals. [5] In many ways, Herriot's books are unforgettable tours through the small, rural towns of the northern part of England.

MODULE 3: PARTS OF SPEECH

VERBS

3a A verb is a word that expresses an action or a state of being.

EXAMPLES The rabbit scampered into the bushes.
Lionel is in the seventh grade.

3b An action verb is a verb that expresses physical or mental action.

EXAMPLES Cara built a model airplane.
Remember your books!

3c A transitive verb is an action verb that expresses an action directed toward a person or thing.

EXAMPLES The grocer helped the customers.
Only the hardiest plants survived the frost.

With transitive verbs, the action passes from the doer—the subject—to the receiver of the action. Words that receive the action of transitive verbs are called objects.

3d An intransitive verb expresses action (or tells something about the subject) without passing the action to a receiver.

EXAMPLES The audience clapped.
His eyeglasses shattered on the pavement.

A verb may be transitive in one sentence and intransitive in another.

EXAMPLES Leta sang a song. [transitive]
Leta sang softly. [intransitive]

EXERCISE 1 Identifying Action Verbs

Underline the action verb in each sentence.

EX. Dolphins remember sounds.

1. In San Francisco, we visited an aircraft carrier.
2. Throw the ball to the pitcher.
3. Yoshi saw the notice on the bulletin board.
4. Who waters the plants every day?
5. First, melt the butter in the skillet.

EXERCISE 2 Identifying Transitive and Intransitive Verbs

Identify the italicized action verbs by writing T for transitive or I for intransitive on the line before each sentence.

EX. T 1. Look carefully through the early morning mist.

- 1. The Statue of Liberty stands in New York Harbor.
- 2. The people of France gave the statue to the United States.
- 3. The French people raised most of the money themselves.
- 4. Frédéric Auguste Bartholdi designed the statue.
- 5. The statue rises above star-shaped Fort Wood.

EXERCISE 3 Writing Sentences with Transitive and Intransitive Verbs

Choose five verbs from the list below. Use each verb to write two sentences. In one sentence, use the verb as a transitive verb and underline its object. In the other, use the verb as an intransitive verb. You may use different tenses of the verb. Identify each verb by writing transitive or intransitive.

EX. draw Monet drew sketches of the waterlilies. (transitive)
 Monet drew quickly. (intransitive)

bake forget join play stop turn watch

- 1. _____

- 2. _____

- 3. _____

- 4. _____

- 5. _____

MODULE 3: PARTS OF SPEECH

LINKING VERBS

3e A linking verb is a verb that links, or connects, the subject of a sentence with a noun, a pronoun, or an adjective in the predicate.

EXAMPLES Jin Young Ko is a golfer. [The verb is connects golfer with the subject Jin Young Ko.]
Most of the runners seemed tired after the race. [The verb seemed links tired with the subject runners.]

Linking Verbs Formed from the Verb Be am	has been	may be is	have been	might be are	had been	can be was	will be	should be were	shall be	would have been

Other Linking Verbs

appear	become	feel	grow	look	remain
seem	smell	sound	stay	taste	turn

Some words may be either action verbs or linking verbs, depending on how they are used.

ACTION Farmers grow a variety of crops.
LINKING Children grow taller each year. [The verb links taller with the subject children.]

ACTION Look at the seeds through the microscope.
LINKING Look surprised! [The verb links surprised with the understood subject you.]

EXERCISE 4 Identifying Linking Verbs

Underline the linking verb in each sentence.

EX. Her name sounded unfamiliar to me.

1. Is Kimiko a new student in our school?
2. At first, she appeared shy and nervous.
3. Like many recent immigrants, she often felt homesick.
4. After a few weeks at school, she became more confident.
5. With the support of her teacher and her fellow students, she grew comfortable in her new surroundings.
6. The English language now seems easier for her.
7. After having studied it for several years, Kimiko is fluent in Chinese.
8. In Japan, she had been a member of a gymnastics team.
9. The sport of gymnastics looks very difficult to me.
10. Maybe someday I can be a gymnast like Kimiko.

EXERCISE 5 Identifying Linking Verbs

Underline the linking verb in each sentence. Draw two lines under the two words connected by each linking verb.

EX. Mars was the Roman god of war.

1. The planet Mars appears red in the nighttime sky.
2. It is smaller than Earth.
3. Throughout the ages, Mars has been a source of mystery.
4. An icecap at the planet's south pole remains frozen during the entire Martian year.
5. During autumn and winter, the icecap grows larger.

MODULE 3: PARTS OF SPEECH

HELPING VERBS

3f A verb phrase contains a main verb and one or more helping verbs.

EXAMPLES Theo did remember his overdue books.
I might have seen your jacket in the cafeteria.
The painting may have been painted by Winslow Homer.

3g A helping verb helps the main verb to express action or a state of being.

EXAMPLES Soon, the judges will be announcing the winner.
The meat should have been cooked more thoroughly.

Helping Verbs
am	is	are	was	were	be being	been	have	has	had	do does	did	may	might	must	can could	shall	should	will	would

Sometimes a verb phrase is interrupted by another part of speech, such as a pronoun or an adverb.

EXAMPLES Am I singing only in the second act?
He does not have a new phone.

EXERCISE 6 Identifying Verb Phrases and Helping Verbs

Underline each verb phrase in the following paragraph. Draw a second line under the helping verb.

EX. Have you ever played tennis?

[1] Tennis can be traced back to an old French game. [2] Over the years, the rules of the game have remained largely the same. [3] However, the players' equipment has changed greatly. [4] During the twelfth and thirteenth centuries, players would hit the ball with the palms of their hands. [5] The sheepskin ball was filled with sawdust. [6] Later, pieces of wood were used with gloved hands. [7] By the middle of the fifteenth century, strung rackets had been invented. [8] Today, many professional players do not use wooden rackets. [9] Modern racket frames are made from a combination of materials, such as fiberglass, graphite, and metal. [10] Different materials for stringing the racket have also been tried.

EXERCISE 7 Identifying Verb Phrases and Helping Verbs

Underline the verb phrases in the sentences below. Draw a second line under the helping verbs.

EX. Abraham Lincoln was born in Kentucky.

1. By his eighth birthday, Lincoln had moved twice.
2. As a young man, he had become a lawyer.
3. By 1848, he had been elected to the United States Congress.
4. He was elected to the office of President of the United States in 1860.
5. He is remembered for his honesty.
6. Frederick Douglass was born roughly a decade after Abraham Lincoln.
7. Born to enslaved people in Maryland, Douglass never did know his birth date.
8. In his youth, he was secretly taught to read and write.
9. By the age of about 20, he had escaped to freedom.
10. He would eventually publish his autobiography and an important abolitionist newspaper.

MODULE 3: PARTS OF SPEECH

ADVERBS

3h An adverb is a word that modifies a verb, an adjective, another adverb, or an entire clause or sentence.

An adverb answers the following questions:

Where?	How often?	To what extent?
When?	or	or
How?	How long?	How much?

EXAMPLES Greta moved quietly. [Quietly is an adverb modifying the verb moved; it tells how.]
The meeting ended rather suddenly. [Rather is an adverb modifying the adverb suddenly; it tells to what extent. Suddenly is an adverb modifying the verb ended; it tells how.]
I often write very long letters to my friends. [Often is an adverb modifying the verb write; it tells how often. Very is an adverb modifying the adjective long; it tells to what extent.]
Later, we went inside. [Later is an adverb modifying the verb went; it tells when. Inside is an adverb also modifying the verb went; it tells where.]

Words Often Used as Adverbs
Where?	away, here, inside, near, there, up
When?	ago, later, next, now, soon, then
How?	clearly, easily, quietly, slowly
How often? or How long?	always, briefly, continuously, endlessly, forever, never, usually
To what extent? or How much?	almost, extremely, least, more, not, quite, so, too, very

Many adverbs end in -ly. These adverbs are formed by adding -ly to adjectives. However, some words ending in -ly are used as adjectives.

Adverbs Ending in -ly loud + -ly = loudly slow + -ly = slowly

Adjectives Ending in -ly daily	friendly	lively
early	kindly	lonely

EXERCISE 8 Identifying Adverbs

Underline the adverbs in the following sentences. Draw an arrow to the word that each adverb modifies. [Note: A sentence may contain more than one adverb.]

- EX. A rather large boat sailed past.
1. The denim skirt was too long and too expensive.
 2. Was the sun shining then?
 3. Emilio will soon call his relatives in Costa Rica.
 4. Suddenly, giant hailstones pounded the area, and extremely high winds uprooted many trees.
 5. Yesterday, the seventh-grade class visited the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, DC.
 6. The huge tiger growled fiercely and angrily.
 7. Later, the traffic in the city seemed unusually heavy.
 8. My cat seldom goes outside.
 9. Kamaria always does her homework before supper.
 10. Our old clock works amazingly well.

EXERCISE 9 Choosing Adverbs to Modify Adjectives

The adverb very is used far too often to modify adjectives. Write five sentences that each use an adverb other than very to modify one of the adjectives below. Use a different adverb with each adjective.

- EX. strong This elephant is incredibly strong.
- | | | | | |
|------------|--------|---------|--------|----------|
| clever | happy | neat | sweet | tired |
| perceptive | narrow | nervous | taller | valuable |
1. _____
 2. _____
 3. _____
 4. _____
 5. _____

MODULE 3: PARTS OF SPEECH

REVIEW EXERCISE

A. Identifying Action Verbs and Linking Verbs

Underline the verb in each sentence. Then, on the line before the sentence, identify the verb by writing A for action verb or L for linking verb. If the verb is a linking verb, double underline the two words that it connects.

EX. L Not all dinosaurs looked fierce.

1. Can you picture a dinosaur in your mind?
2. These creatures roamed the planet for millions of years.
3. Dinosaurs had skeletons like those of birds.
4. Some of these skeletons have been preserved as fossils.
5. Like the skin of reptiles, dinosaur skin might have felt scaly.
6. Some meat-eating dinosaurs were huge.
7. The largest dinosaurs might have been warm-blooded.
8. Some plant-eaters were the size of chickens.
9. Scientists do not know the color of dinosaurs.
10. The true appearance of dinosaurs will probably remain a mystery.

B. Writing Adverbs

Rewrite the following sentences. Make them more precise by adding to sentence an adverb that answers the question in parentheses.

EX. The teacher gave the instructions. (how?)

The teacher gave the instructions slowly.

1. The team had gone to the stadium. (when?)

2. It was an enjoyable trip. (to what extent?)

3. The deer ran across the meadow. (how?)

4. During the storm, the girls went. (where?)

5. Did Carlos buy the tickets? (when?)

MODULE 3: PARTS OF SPEECH

CONJUNCTIONS AND INTERJECTIONS

3j A conjunction is a word that joins words or groups of words.

(1) Coordinating conjunctions connect words or groups of words used in the same way.

Coordinating Conjunctions
and	but	for	nor	or	so	yet

EXAMPLES bridges or tunnels [two nouns] powerful yet gentle [two adjectives] before recess and after lunch [two prepositional phrases]
 The alarm didn't go off, so I was late for school. [two complete ideas]

(2) Subordinating conjunctions are used to introduce a subordinate clause.

Subordinating Conjunctions
after	although	as if	as soon as	because	before	if since	than	unless	until	when	wherever	while

EXAMPLES When I visited Mexico last summer, I saw several beautiful murals.
 Although the United States is more than 200 years old, many Europeans think of it as a young country.
 Before they arrived at the camp, they had to climb the mountain.
 As soon as the alarm goes off, I will get out of bed.

(3) Correlative conjunctions are pairs of conjunctions that connect words or groups of words used in the same way.

Correlative Conjunctions
both/and	either/or	neither/nor	no sooner/than	not/but	not only/but also	whether/or

EXAMPLES Both Jupiter and Saturn have rings. [two nouns]
 We will go either to the movies or to the ball game. [two prepositional phrases]
 Not only did Wilma play the piano, but she also sang two songs. [two complete ideas]

EXERCISE 12 Identifying Conjunctions

Underline the conjunction in each sentence. [Note: A sentence may contain more than one conjunction.]

EX. That animal is either an alligator or a crocodile.

1. Both the alligator and the crocodile are reptiles.
2. A crocodile has fewer but sharper teeth than the alligator.

3. Not only are crocodiles more vicious, but they are also more active than alligators.
4. These reptiles look alike, yet it is easy to tell them apart.
5. Neither alligators nor crocodiles are found in many areas, because they have been widely hunted.
6. While the guide was explaining the route to us, we saw a crocodile swim across the swamp.
7. Although it was only May, the temperature was over 90 degrees.
8. No sooner did we leave the car than we started sweating.
9. It was a fun yet exhausting day!
10. We learned a lot about alligators and crocodiles.

INTERJECTIONS

3k An interjection is a word that expresses strong emotion.

An interjection has no grammatical relationship to the rest of the sentence. Usually, an interjection is followed by an exclamation point.

EXAMPLES Wow! That sounds exciting.
 Ouch! I just stubbed my toe.

Sometimes an interjection is set off by a comma or commas.

EXAMPLES Ugh, these books are heavy.
 That should take, oh, one hour to complete.

EXERCISE 13 Writing Interjections

You have just seen an exciting superhero movie. Write five sentences about the movie. In each sentence, use a different interjection from the list below. Underline the interjections that you use. [Remember that an interjection may be set off either by an exclamation point or by a comma or commas.]

EX. Aha! I know who the villain is.

oh oops ouch ugh well wow yes

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____
4. _____
5. _____

MODULE 3: PARTS OF SPEECH

MODULE REVIEW

A. Identifying Verbs, Adverbs, Prepositions, Conjunctions, and Interjections

Identify the part of speech of each italicized word. On the line before each sentence, write V for verbs, A for adverbs, P for prepositions, C for conjunctions, and I for interjections.

EX. A Have you ever seen the strong man at a circus?

- 1. Circus strong men can bend steel with their bare hands.
- 2. Well, a blacksmith can bend steel also.
- 3. Many years ago, blacksmiths supplied people with a variety of everyday items.
- 4. They made cooking utensils, tools, plows, and sometimes even metal toys.
- 5. Today, factories make most of the metal products on the market, but not all of them.
- 6. Surprise! Blacksmiths are still at work in some places.
- 7. Their most important piece of equipment is a forge.
- 8. The blacksmith heats metal in the forge.
- 9. Then the softened metal is shaped by being hammered or pressed.
- 10. Plunging the hot metal into water cools the metal so that it keeps its new form.

B. Identifying Action Verbs and Linking Verbs

In the following sentences, underline each action verb and double underline each linking verb.

EX. Sonya brought her bike to a local shop for repairs.

The tire had been flat for a week.

- 1. Wenona carried her books to school.
- 2. Annie and Lily gave Roscoe their calculator.
- 3. Jesse helped me with the problem.
- 4. A pigeon is building its nest on the platform.
- 5. The twins are moving to Oregon in the fall.
- 6. Chicken soup tastes wonderful.
- 7. Marini has become a leader in her class.
- 8. Derrick showed his rock collection to the class on Thursday.
- 9. Vince, are you ready for the contest?
- 10. The bike is not new, but it is in excellent condition.

C. Identifying Adverbs and Prepositions

In the sentences below, identify each italicized word as either an adverb or a preposition. On the line before each sentence, write A for adverb or P for preposition.

EX. A; P He watched uneasily as the deer walked in the garden.

1. Three people fell off the boat suddenly.
2. Fortunately, another boat was passing by when the accident happened.
3. The people who fell were among the many treated for injuries.
4. At the end of the trip, we were repeatedly asked to report what we had seen.
5. I had never been in a storm like that before.

D. Writing Sentences

Write ten sentences that meet the following requirements. Underline the word that you are asked to use in each sentence, and identify how it is used.

EX. Use up as an adverb and as a preposition.
All the graduates stood up.—adverb
The firefighter climbed up the ladder.—preposition

1. Use daily as an adjective and as an adverb.

2. Use before as an adverb and as a preposition.

3. Use so as an adverb and as a conjunction.

4. Use yet as a conjunction and as an adverb.

5. Use well as an interjection and as an adjective.

MODULE 4: COMPLEMENTS

DIRECT OBJECTS

4a A complement is a word or a group of words that completes the meaning of a verb.

Every sentence has a subject and a verb. In addition, the verb often needs a complement to complete its meaning.

S V

INCOMPLETE Jared enjoys [what?]

S V C

COMPLETE Jared enjoys tennis.

S V

INCOMPLETE Jared is [what?]

S V C

COMPLETE Jared is an athlete.

A direct object is one type of complement. It completes the meaning of a transitive verb.

4b A direct object is a noun or a pronoun that receives the action of a verb or shows the result of that action. A direct object answers the question Whom? or What? after a transitive verb.

EXAMPLES The coach called Lana. [Lana receives the action of the verb called and tells whom the coach called.]
That company makes equipment for the sports team. [Equipment tells what the company makes.]

A direct object can never follow a linking verb because a linking verb does not express action. Also, a direct object is never part of a prepositional phrase.

LINKING VERB Ms. Castillo is our tennis coach. [The verb is does not express action. Therefore, it has no direct object.]

PREPOSITIONAL PHRASE She teaches at our school. [School is not the direct object of the verb teaches. It is the object in the prepositional phrase at our school.]

A direct object may be a compound of two or more objects.

EXAMPLE I enjoy tennis, baseball, and soccer. [The compound direct object of the verb enjoy includes tennis, baseball, and soccer.]

EXERCISE 1 Identifying Direct Objects

Underline the direct object in each sentence. [Remember: A direct object may be compound.]

EX. We watched a video about the migration of birds.

1. Jeremy walked the Henderson's dog each day for a week.
2. Henry lost his wallet and his jacket.
3. After rehearsal, Joni saw your brother at the swimming pool.
4. The school principal posted the rules on the bulletin board.
5. Last night, we streamed a movie.
6. As we listened, he answered our questions carefully.
7. I need directions to your house.
8. Ms. Martínez teaches Spanish and French at the high school.
9. Someone left a message on the table for you.
10. The cars and buses on the freeway pollute the air.

EXERCISE 2 Writing Sentences with Direct Objects

Complete each sentence by adding a direct object.

EX. Georgio plays basketball.

1. Beatrice caught the _____.
2. I saw a _____ yesterday.
3. At the game, we met _____.
4. Jim kicked a _____.
5. The pitcher threw a _____.
6. Mimi won the _____.
7. At the end of the season, our team had a _____.
8. All of the players received _____.
9. At the banquet, the coach praised the _____.
10. Of all sports, I especially like _____.

INDIRECT OBJECTS

An indirect object is another type of complement. Like a direct object, an indirect object helps to complete the meaning of a transitive verb. A sentence with an indirect object always has a direct object too.

4c An indirect object is a noun or pronoun that comes between a verb and a direct object. It tells to whom, to what, for whom, or for what the action of the verb is done.

EXAMPLES Dante gave me a gift. [The pronoun me is the indirect object of the verb gave. It answers the question "To whom did Dante give a gift?" The noun gift is the direct object.]

Ariana left Tom a note. [The noun Tom is the indirect object of the verb left. It answers the question "For whom did Ariana leave a note?" The noun note is the direct object.]

Like a direct object, an indirect object may be a compound of two or more objects.

EXAMPLE He made his mother and father an anniversary card. [The nouns mother and father are the indirect objects of the verb made. They answer the question "For whom did he make an anniversary card?" The noun card is the direct object.]

NOTE Linking verbs do not have indirect objects because they do not show action. Also, an indirect object is never part of a prepositional phrase.

INDIRECT OBJECT Mr. Nguyen offered me a job.

PREPOSITIONAL PHRASE Mr. Nguyen offered a job to me.

EXERCISE 3 Identifying Direct Objects and Indirect Objects

In each sentence, underline the direct object once. Underline the indirect object twice.
[Remember: Objects may be compound.]

EX. I loaned Babette my brown boots.

1. Hillary taught her dog a new trick.
2. I drew them a map of the town center.
3. Yesterday, my mother gave me a ride to school.
4. Helen read the class a poem by Langston Hughes.
5. Please tell us your new address.
6. During her vacation, my aunt sent me a postcard from Puerto Rico.
7. Harold told Kim and Filbert a story before their nap.
8. Sometimes Dr. Milano offers his neighbors vegetables from his garden.
9. Fortunately, the park ranger gave the hikers a warning about the mudslide.
10. I might give my little sister or my little brother this old jacket.

EXERCISE 4 Revising Sentences by Using Indirect Objects

Rewrite each sentence. Use the italicized information to write an indirect object. Underline the indirect objects in your revised sentences.

EX. Mr. Desiderato gave an award to Priya.

Mr. Desiderato gave Priya an award.

1. Priya told the whole story to us.

2. Last month, she wrote a letter to the city council.

3. She gave to them several ideas about summer programs for kids.

4. They offered summer jobs to Priya and her classmates.

5. Together, the class taught many games to the neighborhood children.

6. They also offered swimming lessons for the children.

7. The city owed many thanks to Priya for her ideas and her organizational skills.

8. The neighborhood parents bought a trophy for Priya.

9. For Priya and the swimming coaches, all the children brought cards and banners.

10. Priya had given to the city a summer of fun.

PREDICATE NOMINATIVES

- 4d A subject complement completes the meaning of a linking verb and identifies or describes the subject.

There are two kinds of subject complements—the predicate nominative and the predicate adjective.

EXAMPLES Ricardo is the leader of the school jazz band. [Leader is the predicate nominative following the linking verb is. It identifies the subject Ricardo.]

The sun was bright this morning. [Bright is the predicate adjective following the linking verb was. It describes the subject sun.]

- 4e A predicate nominative is a noun or pronoun that follows a linking verb and explains or identifies the subject of the sentence.

Like other subject complements, a predicate nominative may be compound.

EXAMPLES A guanaco is a wild animal from South America. [Animal is a predicate nominative following the linking verb is. It explains the subject guanaco.]

Hiroshi became treasurer of our club. [Treasurer is the predicate nominative following the linking verb became. It identifies and explains the subject Hiroshi.]

The stars of the show might be Greg and she. [Greg and she are compound predicate nominatives following the linking verb might be. They identify the subject stars.]

NOTE Be careful not to confuse a predicate nominative with a direct object. A predicate nominative always follows a linking verb, while a direct object always follows an action verb. Also, remember that a predicate nominative is never part of a prepositional phrase.

PREDICATE NOMINATIVE Felicia is an artist.

DIRECT OBJECT Felicia paints pictures.

PREPOSITIONAL PHRASE Felicia may become famous as an artist.

EXERCISE 5 Identifying Predicate Nominatives and Linking Verbs

In each sentence, underline the linking verb once. Underline the predicate nominative twice.

EX. Movies are great entertainment.

1. Some popular movies are remakes, not original ideas.
2. One example is the popular film West Side Story.
3. Two people, Robert Wise and Jerome Robbins, were the directors of the 1961 version.
4. Was their collaboration a success?
5. Rita Moreno is a talented actress, singer, and dancer.
6. Her best movies might be two adaptations of West Side Story.
7. Other stars in the 2021 version were Rachel Zegler and Ariana DeBose.
8. West Side Story is a modern version of the Shakespearean tragedy Romeo and Juliet.
9. Of the many songs in that movie, my favorites were "Tonight" and "Maria."
10. The composer of the music for West Side Story was Leonard Bernstein.

EXERCISE 6 Writing Sentences with Predicate Nominatives

Each of the following items is written as an equation. Rewrite each one as a sentence with a linking verb and a predicate nominative.

EX. Maria Tallchief = ballerina

Maria Tallchief became a famous ballerina.

1. dictionary = reference book

2. my best friends = Lisette and Jobelle

3. some industrial gases = argon, nitrogen, helium, neon

4. this rock = granite

5. winners of the award = Mina and I

MODULE 4: COMPLEMENTS

PREDICATE ADJECTIVES

4f A predicate adjective is an adjective that follows a linking verb and describes the subject of the sentence.

Like other complements, a predicate adjective may be compound.

EXAMPLES I felt proud about my report. [Proud is the predicate adjective that follows the linking verb felt. It describes the subject I.]
The apple was red and shiny. [Red and shiny are the predicate adjectives that follow the linking verb was. They describe the subject apple.]

EXERCISE 7 Identifying Predicate Adjectives and Linking Verbs

In each sentence below, underline the linking verb once. Underline the predicate adjective twice.

EX. That music seems too loud.

1. The vegetable soup smells good.
2. The sky is cloudy and dark today.
3. Your brother Reza is really funny!
4. During the drought, the lettuce in the garden became limp and wilted.

MODULE 5: THE PHRASE

PREPOSITIONAL PHRASES

5a A phrase is a group of related words that is used as a single part of speech. A phrase may contain a subject or a verb, but not both.

EXAMPLES will be studying [phrase, no subject] from that country [phrase, no subject or verb]

5b A prepositional phrase is a group of words consisting of a preposition, a noun or pronoun that serves as the object of the preposition, and any modifiers of that object.

A preposition is used to show the relationship between a noun or a pronoun and another word in a sentence.

EXAMPLES The boat on the water was swaying. (The noun water is the object of the preposition on.)

 For this reason, I am trying to finish the race. (The noun reason is the object of the preposition For.)

 Will the hikers go into the wilderness? (The noun wilderness is the object of the preposition into.)

The object of a preposition may be compound.

EXAMPLES Are you going to the concert with Atul and Mady?
 The judges divided the prize money between them and us.

EXERCISE 1 Identifying Prepositions and Prepositional Phrases

Underline the prepositional phrases in the following sentences. Double underline the preposition in each phrase.

The red-and-blue fishing boat was tossed by the wind.

1. under his hat

2. at that moment

3. with brown eyes

4. of the city

5. to the mall

49

MODULE 5: THE PHRASE

ADJECTIVE PHRASES

5c An adjective phrase modifies a noun or a pronoun.

A prepositional phrase used as an adjective is called an adjective phrase.

ADJECTIVE	The concerned children participated in a program to clean up the park.
ADJECTIVE PHRASE	The children of Washington Middle School participated in a program to clean up the park.

Adjective phrases answer the same questions that single-word adjectives answer.

What kind?	Which one?
How many?	How much?

EXAMPLES	I took a photograph of my aunt. [The prepositional phrase of my aunt is used as an adjective to modify the noun photograph. The phrase answers the question What kind?] His rowboat is the one with the red hull. [With the red hull is used as an adjective to modify the pronoun one. The phrase answers the question Which one?] That box of CDs on the table is Grandpa's. [The two adjective phrases of CDs and on the table modify the noun box. EXERCISE 5 Identifying Adjective Phrases

Underline the adjective phrases in the paragraph below, and draw an arrow from each phrase to the word that it modifies. [Note: A sentence may contain more than one phrase.]

EX. The waves on the ocean were foamy.

[1] I'll never forget the view of the seaside town. [2] Houses of whitewashed stone lined the winding road to the pier. [3] Children played and bought paper kites with long tails. [4] Later, a boat docked, bringing a crowd of noisy tourists with sunburned faces. [5] Their arrival meant our peaceful visit to the seashore had ended.

EXERCISE 6 Using Adjective Phrases

Write a sentence using each of the following prepositional phrases as an adjective phrase. Underline the phrase in each sentence.

EX. of the supermarket
The owner of the supermarket opened the store early.

1. with long legs

2. on the green carpet

3. of South America

4. about sports and medicine

5. between the four students

MODULE 5: THE PHRASE

ADVERB PHRASES

5d An adverb phrase modifies a verb, an adjective, or another adverb.

A prepositional phrase used as an adverb is called an adverb phrase.

ADVERB	The shoppers hurried home .
ADVERB PHRASE	The shoppers hurried toward the exit .

Adverb phrases answer the same questions that single-word adverbs answer.

When?	How?	To what extent?
Where?	How often?	How much?

EXAMPLES

Paris is famous for its restaurants. [The adverb phrase for its restaurants modifies the adjective famous, telling how.]

The meeting ran late into the night. [The adverb phrase into the night modifies the adverb late, telling when or how.]

We planted roses beside the house. [The adverb phrase beside the house modifies the verb planted, telling where.]

Notice that, unlike most adjective phrases, adverb phrases can appear at various places in sentences.

EXAMPLE Beside the house, we planted roses.

EXERCISE 7 Identifying Adverb Phrases

Underline the adverb phrase in each sentence and draw an arrow to the word it modifies. [Note: A sentence may contain more than one phrase.]

EX. Some birds fly south for the winter.

- Animal migrations are common in nature.

13. With small radios, scientists have mapped the terns' routes.
14. During its lifetime, a tern may travel a million miles or more.
15. A tern's pointed wings carry it over long distances.

EXERCISE 8 Using Adverb Phrases

Select five phrases from the list below. Use each one as an adverb phrase in a sentence. Underline each adverb phrase, and double underline the word or words each phrase modifies.

EX. with great force

The hurricane hit the city with great force.

in the rain forest

at four o'clock

with her savings

by the team

under the old bed

after the long movie

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____
4. _____
5. _____

MODULE 5: THE PHRASE

REVIEW EXERCISE 1

A. Identifying Prepositional Phrases, Prepositions, and Objects

In the paragraph below, underline the prepositional phrases. In each phrase, draw a second line under the preposition, and circle the object of the preposition. [Note: A sentence may contain more than one prepositional phrase.]

EX. Working with planes can be interesting.

[1] Monday was an important day in Mei-Ling's life. [2] She enlisted in the Air Force. [3] Mei-Ling will soon be stationed near Los Angeles. [4] During the first weeks, she will go through basic training. [5] After that time, she will take several tests to qualify for certain jobs. [6] Mei-Ling will then transfer to a special school. [7] She would like a job in radar. [8] However, she is also considering the field of space medicine. [9] Within a few months, she will be given her choice of assignments. [10] Mei-Ling can then expect to have a long career in the Air Force.

B. Identifying and Classifying Prepositional Phrases

In the sentences below, underline each prepositional phrase, and classify it as an adjective phrase or an adverb phrase by writing ADJ or ADV on the line before the sentence. Then double underline the word or words the phrase modifies.

EX. ADJ Do you know anything about space travel?

- _____ 1. Life in a spacecraft requires much planning.
- _____ 2. An air conditioner removes carbon dioxide from the air.
- _____ 3. It also keeps the temperature of the air constant.
- _____ 4. Weightlessness is a difficult problem for astronauts.
- _____ 5. On long space missions, astronauts must exercise regularly.

MODULE 5: THE PHRASE

VERB PHRASES AND VERBALS

5e A verb phrase combines an action verb or a linking verb with one or more auxiliary, or helping, verbs.

EXAMPLES

He has been swimming for an hour. [The action verb is swimming, and the helping verbs are has and been.]

I will buy a cookbook for my brother. [The action verb is buy, and the helping verb is will.]

Bernice should be the team's captain. [The linking verb is be, and the helping verb is should.]

NOTE

The parts of a verb phrase may be separated by other words.

EXAMPLES Have you changed your mind?
He did not know the answer.

5f A verbal is a verb form used as a noun, an adjective, or an adverb. Do not confuse verbals with verbs.

EXAMPLES

Swimming is good exercise. [Swimming is a verbal used as a noun.]

The waxed floors were slippery. [Waxed is a verbal used as an adjective to describe floors.]

To arrive at daybreak, the emergency supplies must be flown out before ten o'clock. [To arrive is a verbal used as an adverb to modify the verb phrase must be flown.]

EXERCISE 9 Identifying Verb Phrases and Verbals

Identify the italicized words in each sentence by writing V for verbal or VP for verb phrase on the line before the sentence.

EX. V
 VP

a. Eating watermelon is fun.

b. The man is eating watermelon for breakfast.

1. a. Replacing the food was expensive for the shopkeeper.

- worry 5. a. _____ is simply a waste of time.
 b. The students _____ about their tests.

MODULE 5: THE PHRASE

PARTICIPLES AND PARTICIPIAL PHRASES

THE PARTICIPLE

5g A participle is a verb form that can be used as an adjective.

There are two kinds of participles: present participles and past participles.

(1) Present participles end in -ing.

EXAMPLES The detective searched for the missing necklace. [Missing is the present participle of the verb miss. The participle modifies the noun necklace.]
The barking dogs chased the truck. [Barking is the present participle of the verb bark. The participle acts as an adjective modifying the noun dogs.]

(2) Past participles usually end in -d or -ed.

EXAMPLES When he saw the broken bat, Spiro cried. [The irregular past participle broken modifies the noun bat.]
Disliked by the public, the television show was canceled. [The past participle Disliked modifies the noun show.]

EXERCISE 11 Identifying Participles and the Words They Modify

Underline the participles used as adjectives in the following sentences. Then double underline the noun or pronoun each participle modifies.

EX. The chirping birds woke us up.

1. A fallen tree blocked our path.
2. The tourist took a photograph of the setting sun.
3. The men searched the ruins for the buried treasure of the pharaohs.
4. Deep in the jungle, the explorers found a deserted village.
5. Mr. Ling held the winning ticket in his hand.

PARTICIPIAL PHRASES

5h A participial phrase consists of a participle together with its modifiers and complements. The entire phrase is used as an adjective.

A participial phrase should be placed close to the word it modifies. Otherwise, the phrase may appear to modify another word, and the sentence may not make sense.

EXAMPLES Humming softly, she swept the sidewalk. [The participle humming is modified by the adverb softly. Humming softly is used as an adjective to modify the subject she.]

The directions, written in Spanish, were difficult for me to read. [The participle written is modified by the prepositional phrase in Spanish. Written in Spanish is used as an adjective to modify the subject directions.]

EXERCISE 12 Identifying Participial Phrases

Underline the participial phrase in each sentence. Then draw an arrow from the phrase to the word or words that it modifies.

EX. Two cowboys, riding on a snowy day, stumbled upon Mesa Verde.

1. The ruins, lining the canyons, seemed to rise out of the rock.
2. Dating from the thirteenth century, they remain a wonderful sight.
3. The ruins, known as pueblos, were home to the Anasazi, ancestors of today's Pueblo peoples.
4. Developing their skills, the people became expert stoneworkers.
5. The people, working hard, built their homes in rocky terrain.
6. Chaco Canyon's Pueblo Bonita, started in 920 CE, had several hundred rooms.
7. Pueblo Bonita was five stories high with ladders connecting each level.
8. The Anasazi, using dry-land farming, raised beans and squash.
9. A drought lasting for many years may have forced them to move.
10. Abandoning these homes, the Anasazi moved to new villages south and east of their earlier dwellings.

MODULE 5: THE PHRASE

INFINITIVES AND INFINITIVE PHRASES

THE INFINITIVE

5i An infinitive is a verb form, usually preceded by to, that can be used as a noun, an adjective, or an adverb.

EXAMPLES

I want to try. [To try is an infinitive used as a noun. It is the direct object of the verb want.]

Anna is the one to ask. [To ask is an infinitive used as an adjective. It modifies the pronoun one.]

Are you well enough to run? [To run is an infinitive used as an adverb. It modifies the adverb enough.]

NOTE

To plus a noun or a pronoun (to Jaime, to me) is a prepositional phrase, not an infinitive.

EXERCISE 13 Identifying Infinitives

Underline the infinitive in each sentence below.

EX. Is this game easy to play?

1. Would you like to travel across the ocean on a boat?
2. Having large brains, dolphins are quick to learn.
3. To leave so early during the performance would be rude.
4. Those are the poems to memorize for speech class.
5. To prepare for the test, Hala studied for two hours.

8. Wong needs to practice his part for the play.
9. To succeed, you must study every day.
10. It was exciting to read the novel by Veronica Roth.

INFINITIVE PHRASES

5j An infinitive phrase consists of an infinitive together with its modifiers and complements. The entire phrase may be used as a noun, an adjective, or an adverb.

EXAMPLES To design a computer program takes skill. [The infinitive phrase is used as a noun. The infinitive to design has a complement, a computer program.]
Which is the best stroller to buy for a baby? [The infinitive phrase is used as an adjective to modify the noun stroller. The infinitive to buy is modified by the prepositional phrase for a baby.]
It was exciting to win at chess yesterday. [The infinitive phrase is used as an adverb to modify the adjective exciting. The infinitive to win is modified by the prepositional phrase at chess and by the adverb yesterday.]

EXERCISE 14 Identifying Infinitive Phrases

Underline the infinitive phrase in each sentence below.

EX. Lizards are interesting to study in school.

[1] Lizards are able to protect themselves in many ways. [2] Some lizards seem to match their surroundings. [3] The chameleon, for instance, likes to change its color for protection. [4] Other lizards like to play tricks on their enemies. [5] For example, some lizards will break off their tails to escape their enemies. [6] To replace their old tails, these lizards grow new ones. [7] A third way lizards defend themselves is to fly short distances. [8] The so-called flying dragon seems to sail from tree limb to tree limb. [9] Several lizards will fight to defend themselves. [10] One of these fighters, the monitor, thrashes its tail to whip its enemy.

MODULE 5: THE PHRASE

REVIEW EXERCISE 2

A. Identifying and Classifying Participles and Infinitives

Underline the verbal in each sentence. Then identify it as participle or infinitive by writing P or I on the line before the sentence.

EX. I Are you ready to go?

- _____ 9. Moving at great speeds, the spaceships traveled for more than a year.
- _____ 10. To reach the distant planet was an incredible accomplishment.

C. Writing a Paragraph Using Participial Phrases and Infinitive Phrases

As part of a social studies project, your class is compiling a photo essay about your community. You want to include a photograph and a description of your favorite place in the community. Your description should include answers to the questions below about your chosen place. Include either infinitive phrases or participial phrases in some of your sentences. Then underline and label each phrase.

QUESTIONS	SAMPLE RESPONSES
Where is this place?	beside the river; across the city bridge
Why is it special to you?	IP It's where I used to fish with my friends.
What sounds do you hear?	PP PP loudly chirping birds; cars honking at people
What do you see?	PP tall oak trees bending over; clear blue water

MODULE 5: THE PHRASE

MODULE REVIEW

A. Identifying Prepositions, Objects, and the Words Modified

In each sentence, find all of the prepositional phrases. Underline the preposition once and the object of the preposition twice. Then, on the line before each sentence, write the word or words the phrase modifies. [Note: A sentence may contain more than one phrase.]

EX. liked On the farm, Mr. Orizini liked milking the cows.

- _____ 1. Pioneer women made colorful quilts from fabric scraps.
- _____ 2. A huge bowl of fruits decorated the table.
- _____ 3. We often climb the hill behind our house.

- _____ 8. A triangle is a polygon with three sides.
- _____ 9. Instead of paste, please buy paper.
- _____ 10. Holland is famous for its tulips.

B. Identifying Phrases

In the sentences below, underline all verbal phrases once, and double underline all prepositional phrases. [Note: A sentence may contain more than one phrase.]

EX. Tourists love to visit Switzerland in the winter.

- 1. The Swiss mountains are popular spots for hot-air balloon trips.
- 2. Balloonists travel together on an adventurous trip.
- 3. Guided by wind currents, the balloon glides over the mountains.
- 4. To float over the snow-clad Alps is a marvelous experience.
- 5. I would never pass up the opportunity to make a hot-air balloon flight.

C. Identifying Phrases

Underline the prepositional, participial, and infinitive phrases in the paragraph below. Label these phrases PREP for prepositional, PART for participial, or INF for infinitive. [Note: In this paragraph, writing is used as a noun, not a participle.]

EX. Early civilizations used various types ^{PREP} of symbols to represent words. ^{INF}

[1] To record language was a major step in civilization's development. [2] The Sumerians used the earliest system of true writing about 5,000 years ago. [3] Living in Mesopotamia, the Sumerians carefully pressed tools into wet clay tablets to make impressions. [4] This type of writing, known as cuneiform, was later refined by the Babylonians. [5] Today, scholars study cuneiform to learn the history of the Sumerians.

MODULE 6: THE CLAUSE

INDEPENDENT AND SUBORDINATE CLAUSES

6a A clause is a group of words that contains a verb and its subject.

Every clause contains a subject and a verb. However, not all clauses express complete thoughts.

6b An independent (or main) clause expresses a complete thought and can stand by itself as a sentence.

EXAMPLES Gloria tied her sneakers.
 She wore a red jersey.

When an independent clause stands alone, it is called a sentence. Usually, the term independent clause is used only when such a clause is joined with another clause.

SENTENCE	She leaped over the hurdle.
INDEPENDENT CLAUSE	When she reached the turn, she leaped over the hurdle.

6c A subordinate (or dependent) clause does not express a complete thought and cannot stand alone.

A subordinate clause must be joined with at least one independent clause to express a complete thought. Notice that words such as since, that, and if signal the beginning of a subordinate clause.

SUBORDINATE CLAUSES	since we moved here that you will like if the night is clear
SENTENCES	Since we moved here , I have learned to ski. Rafael heard about a movie that you will like . If the night is clear , you will see shooting stars.

EXERCISE 1 Identifying Independent and Subordinate Clauses

For each sentence, identify the italicized clause by writing I for independent or S for subordinate on the line before the sentence.

EX. S Please bring your camera when you visit.

1. The tomatoes, which we grew ourselves, taste wonderful.
2. Jennifer bought that dog when it was just a puppy.
3. This is Diego, whose sister you met yesterday.

- _____ 4. If you need more paper, I can give you some.
_____ 5. Rain has fallen every weekend since I bought my skates.
_____ 6. When the plane lands, please stay in your seats.
_____ 7. The door opened as we walked up the stairs.
_____ 8. You can talk to Mr. Shankar before class starts.
_____ 9. The instrument that you heard is an oboe.
_____ 10. Because you read quickly, you can finish this story in an evening.

EXERCISE 2 Writing Sentences with Subordinate Clauses

Add independent clauses to the following subordinate clauses to create sentences. Write your sentences on the lines after each clause. Underline the independent clause in each sentence.

- EX. because it is gold _____
The statue will never rust because it is gold.
1. who wrote this report _____

2. when you're ready _____

3. as the winners were announced _____

4. if you want tickets to the concert _____

MODULE 6: THE CLAUSE

THE ADJECTIVE CLAUSE

6d An adjective clause is a subordinate clause that modifies a noun or a pronoun.

Like an adjective or an adjective phrase, an adjective clause may modify a noun or a pronoun. Unlike an adjective phrase, an adjective clause contains a verb and its subject.

ADJECTIVE a big computer

ADJECTIVE PHRASE a computer with a big screen [does not have a verb and its subject]

ADJECTIVE CLAUSE a computer that has a big screen [has a verb and its subject]

An adjective clause usually follows the noun or pronoun it modifies and tells which one or what kind.

EXAMPLES The girl who won the race is my cousin. [The adjective clause modifies the noun girl, telling which one.]

I want a jacket that zips up the front. [The adjective clause modifies the noun jacket, telling what kind.]

An adjective clause is almost always introduced by a relative pronoun.

Relative Pronouns
that	which	who	whom	whose

EXERCISE 3 Identifying Adjective Clauses

Underline the adjective clause in each sentence.

EX. I played baseball, which is my favorite sport.

1. Maria Tallchief is the ballerina who founded the ballet company.
2. The conductor, who looked familiar, was a friend of my aunt.
3. This is the store that is having the sale on used books.
4. The photograph, which was taken in 1973, looks faded now.
5. The person whose name you have picked will be your partner.
6. At last, the surgeon, who looked tired, finished the operation.
7. The wok that I'm using belongs to Tanya.
8. I got a stain on this sweater, which belongs to my older sister.
9. Jason Reynolds is the author whom we met.
10. The keyboard that looks different is a new design.

EXERCISE 4 Identifying Adjective Clauses and Relative Pronouns

Underline the adjective clause in each sentence. Double underline the relative pronoun that begins the clause.

EX. The woman whose biography you read was a great singer.

1. This is the first opera that I've seen.
2. The baritone is the man whose voice you hear.
3. The story, which is complicated, is explained in the program.
4. This is the character whom you saw in the first act.
5. All the songs that you heard were written by Scott Joplin.
6. The understudy who replaced the lead was Martina Arroyo.
7. Mr. Topin gave me a book that tells the plot of this opera.
8. One section of the stage, which moves up and down, creates that special effect.
9. The man who designed the sets is Mr. Virgli.
10. The music that you recognized is the theme song of a movie.

EXERCISE 5 Combining Sentences by Using Adjective Clauses

Rewrite each set of sentences below by making the second sentence into an adjective clause and adding it to the first sentence. Use the relative pronoun given in parentheses to begin the clause.

EX. I have the book. The book belongs to Mei-Ling. (that) I have the book that belongs to Mei-Ling.

1. The runner is being interviewed. The runner won the race. (who)

2. Aunt Sylvia is a talented woman. I admire her. (whom)

3. Here is the soup. The soup is my favorite part of the meal. (which)

4. We studied an animal. The animal is extinct. (that)

5. A have a friend. My friend's dog is named Pokey. (whose)

MODULE 6: THE CLAUSE

THE ADVERB CLAUSE

6e An adverb clause is a subordinate clause that modifies a verb, an adjective, or another adverb.

Like an adverb or an adverb phrase, an adverb clause may modify a verb, an adjective, or an adverb. Unlike an adverb phrase, an adverb clause contains a verb and its subject.

ADVERB Once, Carl appeared in a movie.

ADVERB PHRASE As a young boy, Carl appeared in a movie. [does not have a verb and its subject]

ADVERB CLAUSE When Carl was younger, he appeared in a movie. [has a verb and its subject]

An adverb clause answers one of the following questions: How? When? Where? Why? To what extent? How much? How long? or Under what conditions?

EXAMPLES This statue looks as if it were alive. [The adverb clause tells how the statue looks.]

Before you leave, look at this mobile. [The adverb clause tells when to look.]

The artist collected shells wherever she traveled. [The adverb clause tells where she collected shells.]

Because maple is a light wood, it goes well with ebony. [The adverb clause tells why maple goes well with ebony.]

We can see the whole exhibit if we stay until five. [The adverb clause tells under what conditions we can see the whole exhibit.]

In these examples, notice that adverb clauses may be placed in various positions in sentences. When an adverb clause comes at the beginning of a sentence, it is usually followed by a comma.

Adverb clauses begin with subordinating conjunctions.

Common Subordinating Conjunctions
after	as soon as	in order that	until although	as though	since	when as	because	so that	whenever as if	before	than	where as long as	how	though	wherever

NOTE Some subordinating conjunctions, such as after, as, before, since, and until, may also be used as prepositions.

EXERCISE 6 Identifying Adverb Clauses

Underline the adverb clause in each sentence below.

EX. When I read about astronomy, I get excited.

1. Since I was in the first grade, I have been interested in space.
2. I read as much as I can about the planets.
3. I learned an interesting fact while I was reading about Pluto, a dwarf planet.
4. Before astronomers discovered Pluto's moon in 1978, they had not known the planet's size.
5. Although Pluto is tiny, it has three moons.
6. Because Pluto is small, it has little gravitational pull on its neighbors, Uranus and Neptune.
7. However, Neptune and Uranus wobble in orbit, as if some other small planet were nearby.
8. Scientists learned more about Pluto's surface when they used the Hubble Space Telescope to observe it.
9. When the New Horizons spacecraft flew near Pluto, astronomers learned more interesting facts about the dwarf planet.
10. Views of Pluto have been vastly improved since the James Webb Space Telescope was launched.

MODULE 6: THE CLAUSE

MODULE REVIEW

A. Identifying and Classifying Independent and Subordinate Clauses

Decide whether each of the following clauses is independent or subordinate. On the line before each clause, write I if the clause is independent or S if it is subordinate.

- EX. I the mahouts in India know a special language
 S because they work with elephants
- 1. wherever elephants are used to perform work
 - 2. a mahout rides on the elephant's head
 - 3. while the mahout gives the animal commands
 - 4. since an elephant may understand dozens of commands
 - 5. an elephant can lift heavy lumber
 - 6. because the mahout's orders are given in a special language
 - 7. whenever a mahout works with an elephant
 - 8. these words are used only with elephants
 - 9. although it may be an ancient Indian language
 - 10. unless someone records this special language soon

B. Identifying and Classifying Subordinate Clauses

Underline the subordinate clause in each sentence. On the line before the sentence, write ADJ if the clause is an adjective clause or ADV if the clause is an adverb clause.

- EX. ADV When you want to communicate with distant relatives, you can use a telephone.
- 1. People used other methods of communication before they had telephones.
 - 2. At one time, people probably used hollow logs that they hit with sticks.
 - 3. The sound traveled to people who lived far away.
 - 4. Later, they hit drums that were made from animal skins.
 - 5. Because the drums were different shapes and sizes, they made different sounds.
 - 6. Although sound was used by some people, other people used smoke signals.
 - 7. This was one method that some Chinese, Egyptians, and Native Americans used.
 - 8. However, smoke signals were hard to see if they were sent at night.
 - 9. After electricity was discovered, many new forms of communication appeared.
 - 10. Today, people who have smartphones can communicate with others around the world.

C. Writing Notes for an Oral Report

You are preparing to give an oral report called “The Building of the Pyramids at Giza.” You need to prepare good notes to use during your report.

1. Gather information from a reliable online source or reference book.
2. Write notes on the following topics: where the pyramids are located; what they look like; how, why, and when they were built. In your notes, use five adjective clauses and five adverb clauses.
3. Underline and label the adjective and adverb clauses that you use.

EX. Giza—pyramid that is best known (adjective) construction began before Pharaoh Khufu died (adverb)

Built to honor Khufu, who was called Cheops by Greeks (adjective)

This image shows a single page of white paper with horizontal ruling lines. The lines are evenly spaced and run across the width of the page. There are no margins, text, or other markings on the paper.

MODULE 7: SENTENCE STRUCTURE

SIMPLE SENTENCES

7a A simple sentence has one independent clause and no subordinate clauses.

EXAMPLES S V
Teresa ordered a portable speaker online.

Behind the house ^Vgrew ^Sa small oak tree.

A simple sentence may have a compound subject, a compound verb, or both.

EXAMPLES Both ^Svitamins and ^Sminerals ^Vare important to your health. [compound subject]

^S ^V ^V
Jorge studied all of the facts and then made his decision. [compound verb]

The ^Splumber and her ^Shelper ^Vreplaced the faucet and ^Vfixed the leak. [compound subject and compound verb]

EXERCISE 1 Identifying Subjects and Verbs in Simple Sentences

Underline the subject once and the verb twice in the following sentences. [Note: Some sentences may have a compound subject, a compound verb, or both.]

EX. South America is about twice the size of the United States but has about the same number of people.

1. High mountains and tropical forests provide variety in the continent's climate.
2. The Andes Mountains separate Chile and Argentina.
3. The highest point in South America is Aconcagua.
4. Brazil's coastline stretches more than four thousand miles.
5. In South America, most people speak Spanish or Portuguese.
6. Manufacturing and mining in South America have grown rapidly and have become vital to the economy.
7. Plantations, farms, and ranches cover vast areas of the continent and employ about a third of all South Americans.

8. Coffee and bananas are two of the major crops of South America.
9. South America exports minerals and agricultural products and imports many manufactured goods.
10. Silver and copper are among South America's mineral exports.
11. Many different animals and birds live in the Amazon basin.
12. The capybara grows to four feet and is the world's largest rodent.
13. South America's largest snake, the anaconda, lives near water and swims in the rivers.
14. On the Galapagos Islands live giant turtles.
15. The hoglike tapir, about the size of a pony, is South America's largest wild animal.

EXERCISE 2 Writing Simple Sentences

On the lines below, write five simple sentences. In your sentences, use a compound subject, a compound verb, and both a compound subject and a compound verb. Underline all subjects once and all verbs twice.

EX. My friends and I ate lunch and then went to a movie.

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

4. _____

5. _____

MODULE 7: SENTENCE STRUCTURE

COMPOUND SENTENCES

7b A compound sentence has two or more independent clauses and no subordinate clauses.

EXAMPLE Chi Chen plays the trombone, and Mavis plays the saxophone. [Chi Chen plays the trombone and Mavis plays the saxophone are independent clauses.]

The independent clauses of a compound sentence are usually joined by a comma and a coordinating conjunction (and, but, or, nor, for, so, or yet).

NOTE Do not use a comma if for is used as a preposition. Only use a comma before for when it is used as a conjunction combining two independent clauses (usually in formal situations).

The independent clauses of a compound sentence may be joined by a semicolon.

EXAMPLE Rachel Carson was the author of Silent Spring; she also worked for the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

The independent clauses may also be joined by a semicolon and a conjunctive adverb or a transitional expression, which is followed by a comma.

EXAMPLE Gary Soto thought his first poems were awkward; therefore, he worked hard to improve his writing.

NOTE A compound sentence is different from a simple sentence with a compound subject, or a compound verb, or both.

	S	V	V
SIMPLE SENTENCE	Nicholas went to Rome in April and stayed at a small hotel near the Forum. [single subject and compound verb]
	S	V	S	V
COMPOUND SENTENCE	Nicholas went to Rome in April, and he stayed at a small hotel near the Forum. [Both independent clauses have a single subject and a single verb.]
	S	V	V	V
SIMPLE SENTENCE	Hisoka and Tamara bought some sandpaper and refinished the top of the table. [compound subject and compound verb]
	S	V	S	S	V
COMPOUND SENTENCE	Hisoka and Tamara bought some sandpaper; later they refinished the top of the table. [The first independent clause has a compound subject and a single verb. The second independent clause has a single subject and a single verb.]

EXERCISE 3 Identifying Parts of Compound Sentences

Underline the subject once and the verb twice in each of the following independent clauses. Then circle each coordinating conjunction, semicolon, or conjunctive adverb.

EX. Scientists discovered prehistoric cave paintings, (and) they also found stone tools and animal bones in caves.

1. Prehistoric people had not invented writing, so they could not record history.
2. Early people in cold climates made clothing from animal skins, yet the people could not stay warm enough without fires.
3. Ice sheets lowered sea levels; as a result, people traveled between regions on land bridges.
4. A gradual warming trend melted the ice sheets, so the seas began to cover the land bridges.
5. People would live for several weeks near a large source of food, so hunters often built shelters at campsites.
6. A campsite would be divided into sections; the group used some areas for preparing food, and other areas were used for sleeping.
7. Some campsites had garbage heaps, and these give scientists clues about tools, clothing, and food.
8. Many tools were made from stone; others were made of bone and wood.
9. Farming was not developed until around 10,000 BCE, so early people hunted animals and collected wild plants for food.
10. The first farmers grew crops, yet they still hunted for food.
11. Prehistoric hunters probably lived in groups of twenty-five to fifty persons, and each group consisted of several families.
12. The families shared the work of the group, but not all of the group's members hunted for food.
13. A hunting group moved from place to place, yet it rarely met another group.
14. Hunters developed new weapons and methods; therefore, larger animals could be captured and killed.
15. Scientists have pieced together a story of early human development, but many questions are still unanswered.

EXERCISE 4 Writing Compound Sentences

Write four compound sentences. Use a semicolon to join the independent clauses of your first sentence. Use the conjunctive adverb therefore in your second sentence. In your last two sentences, use the coordinating conjunctions but and or. Underline all subjects once and all verbs twice.

EX. I take the bus to school, but my older sister drives.

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____
4. _____

EXERCISE 5 Distinguishing Compound Sentences from Compound Subjects or Compound Verbs

Identify each of the following sentences as either simple or compound. Write S for simple or C for compound on the line before the sentence. Then underline each subject once and each verb twice.

EX. C The mosque is a place of worship; the Muslim community goes there to recite prayers.

S A mosque may be a small tower or may include several buildings.

- _____ 1. Muslims pray at the mosque on Fridays, and these special Friday mosques are often large buildings.
- _____ 2. A courtyard and a prayer hall usually are important features of a Friday mosque.
- _____ 3. The prayer hall has no seats; it has carpets instead.
- _____ 4. The call to prayer at first was delivered from the roof of a house but now comes from a minaret, or tower.
- _____ 5. Some Islamic countries have square minarets; others have spiral shapes.

EXERCISE 6 Writing Simple Sentences and Compound Sentences

Following the instructions for each item below, write simple and compound sentences. Underline each subject once and each verb twice.

EX. compound sentence with a compound subject in the second independent clause

Basketball tryouts are tomorrow, but Mara and Devon will be out of town.

1. simple sentence with a compound subject _____

2. simple sentence with a compound verb _____

3. simple sentence with a compound subject and a compound verb

4. compound sentence with a compound subject in the first independent clause _____

5. compound sentence with a compound verb in the second independent clause _____

COMPLEX SENTENCES

7c A complex sentence has one independent clause and at least one subordinate clause.

Two kinds of subordinate clauses are adjective clauses and adverb clauses. Adjective clauses usually begin with relative pronouns, such as who, whose, which, and that. Adverb clauses begin with subordinating conjunctions, such as after, although, as, because, if, since, so that, and when.

EXAMPLES The student who designed the stage set is in my theater class. [complex sentence with an adjective clause]

Although they could not have known whether they would find land, Polynesians explored the vast Pacific Ocean in outrigger sailboats, using the stars and ocean swells to navigate. [complex sentence with an adverb clause]

If you want to make a tortilla, you need a very fine grade of cornmeal, which is called masa harina in Mexico. [complex sentence with an adverb clause and an adjective clause]

EXERCISE 7 Identifying Subordinate Clauses

Underline the subordinate clause in each of the following sentences. Then double underline the subordinating conjunction or the relative pronoun that begins the subordinate clause.

EX. The white oak is a valuable tree because its wood is used for floors and furniture.

1. Native Americans who ate the acorns of the tree taught the European settlers about its importance as a food source.
2. The white oak, which can grow to a height of one hundred feet, is the state tree of Connecticut.
3. The people of the state chose the tree because it played an important role in the early history of the Connecticut colony.
4. In 1662, Charles II, who was king of England, granted a charter to the colony.
5. The charter that Charles II gave the colony served as the state's constitution until 1818.
6. Sir Edmund Andros, who was the governor of the Dominion of New England, tried to seize control of Connecticut.
7. When he arrived in Connecticut in 1687, he demanded the charter.
8. Since the colonists valued their freedom, they refused his demands.
9. Settlers hid the charter in the trunk of a white oak, which is now called the Charter Oak.
10. Although historians are not sure of all the facts, the story of the Charter Oak is always included in the history of Connecticut.

EXERCISE 8 Writing Complex Sentences

On the lines below, write five complex sentences. In your sentences, use subordinate clauses that begin with because, when, though, who, and which. Underline the subordinate clause in each sentence.

EX. When Roscoe finished his report, he returned his reference books to the school library.

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

4. _____

5. _____

 4. Robert Moses was commissioner of New York parks when the Verrazano-Narrows Bridge was built.
 5. Because heavy winds whipped up the water in the bay, we headed for the harbor.
 6. My brother pointed the remote control at the television set while he switched from channel to channel.
 7. Although the grand piano was invented more than one hundred years ago, its overall shape has not changed.
 8. Oases, which are fertile areas in the desert, vary in size.
 9. Charlene wants a job this summer so that she can start saving money for college.
 10. Jupiter, which is the fifth planet from the sun, is the largest planet in the solar system.

B. Identifying Simple, Compound, and Complex Sentences

Identify each of the following sentences as simple, compound, or complex. On the line before the sentence, write S for simple, C for compound, or CX for complex.

- EX. CX 1. While people have used many kinds of clocks, all clocks have been used to tell time.
- _____ 1. Before clocks were invented, people studied the motions of the stars at night and checked the shadows on their sundials during the day.
 - _____ 2. Early Egyptians used water clocks, but in another early timepiece, the hourglass, sand was used.
 - _____ 3. The water clock was a clay bowl or glass jar with a scale of markings on its side.
 - _____ 4. As the water ran out, the water that was left in the jar marked the time.
 - _____ 5. The hourglass had two glass bulbs that were joined at a small opening.
 - _____ 6. The grains of sand flowed from the top bulb to the bottom bulb in about one hour.

- _____ 7. The first mechanical clocks in Western civilization, which were invented during the late 1200s, had no hands.
- _____ 8. Because the clock had no hands, it told the time with chiming bells.
- _____ 9. In the mid-1300s, Western inventors added an hour hand and a dial to the mechanical clock.
- _____ 10. By the 1920s, many homes had electric clocks; digital clocks gained popularity in the 1970s.

C. Writing Simple, Compound, and Complex Sentences

Write five sentences following the directions for each item below.

EX. a simple sentence with a compound verb
Rosa sawed the boards and nailed them in place.

1. a simple sentence

2. a simple sentence with a compound subject and a compound verb

3. a compound sentence with two independent clauses joined by the coordinating conjunction and

4. a compound sentence with two independent clauses joined by the coordinating conjunction but

5. a complex sentence

MODULE 8: AGREEMENT

AGREEMENT OF SUBJECT AND VERB

Number is the term used to describe the form of a word that indicates whether the word is singular or plural.

8a When a word refers to one person, place, thing, or idea, it is singular in number. When a word refers to more than one, it is plural in number.

8b A verb agrees with its subject in number.

Two words agree when they have the same number. The number of a verb must always agree with the number of its subject.

(1) Singular subjects take singular verbs.

EXAMPLE The flag flies on holidays. [The singular verb flies agrees with the singular subject flag.]

(2) Plural subjects take plural verbs.

EXAMPLE Some trees change color in the fall. [The plural verb change agrees with the plural subject trees.]

When a sentence contains a verb phrase, the first helping verb in the verb phrase agrees with the subject.

EXAMPLES The turtle is racing.
The turtles are racing.

The flight has been postponed.
The flights have been postponed.

EXERCISE 1 Recognizing Words as Singular or Plural

On the line before each of the following sentences, classify each italicized word by writing S for singular or P for plural.

EX. C Our library offers a huge selection of fiction.

1. Invented by an American minister in 1869, rickshaws are now banned in many Asian cities.
2. In the summer, the sun rises too early for me.
3. Inés spends her summer vacations on the Greek island of Aegina.
4. The musicians brought their own music to the tryouts.
5. The average porcupine has more than thirty thousand quills.

EXERCISE 2 Identifying Verbs That Agree in Number with Their Subjects

For each sentence below, underline the subject of the sentence and the form of the verb in parentheses that agrees with the subject.

EX. The clouds (fill, fills) the sky.

1. It is amazing that oysters (create, creates) beautiful pearls.
2. They (join, joins) the choir for the holiday pageant.
3. In the spring, trees (sprout, sprouts) leaves quickly when it rains.

10. Alicia's missing hamster (run, runs) out of the closet.
11. Eric (make, makes) a delicious salad with spinach and apples.
12. Tomorrow's championship game (has, have) been rescheduled.
13. Each volunteer (promise, promises) six hours of service.
14. Concerned parents (is, are) encouraging their children to wear sunscreen.
15. The candles (glow, glows) brightly in the darkened room.

MODULE 8: AGREEMENT

INTERVENING PREPOSITIONAL PHRASES

8c The number of a subject is not changed by a phrase following the subject.

EXAMPLES The winner of those ribbons is the spaniel. [The verb is agrees with the subject winner.]

 The seventh-grade teacher, along with a few of her students, walks to school.
[The verb walks agrees with the subject teacher.]

Musicians from Peru and Ecuador have played in our auditorium. [The helping verb have agrees with the subject Musicians.]

EXERCISE 3 Identifying Verbs That Agree in Number with Their Subjects

In each of the following sentences, draw a line through the prepositional phrase or phrases between the subject and verb. Underline the subject. Then underline the verb in parentheses that agrees with the subject.

EX. The city of Amsterdam (has, have) almost ninety islands.

1. Children from all over the neighborhood (wants, want) to attend the birthday party.
2. The library near the White House (contains, contain) more than twenty million books.
3. Derrick's speech during the lunch period (was, were) heard down the hallway.
4. The Statue of Liberty in Paris, like the one in New York City, (stands, stand) on an island.
5. Loretta, along with her two friends, (eats, eat) tacos for lunch almost every day.
6. Those books next to the window (needs, need) dusting.

- _____ 8. Penguins, with their black and white feathers, resemble people in tuxedos.
- _____ 9. The killer whale, among the largest animals, grow to be as long as twenty-seven feet.
- _____ 10. Many mysteries of the South Pole remains unsolved.

EXERCISE 5 Using Correct Subject-Verb Agreement

You are the manager of a toy store. You want to present your boss with a list of improvements that could be made throughout the store. Think about comments that you have heard from the customers about the toys, the employees, and the store itself. Then, write five of these comments as complete sentences. Underline each subject once and each verb twice.

EX. music too loud
The music in the store is too loud.

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____
4. _____
5. _____

MODULE 8: AGREEMENT

SINGULAR AND PLURAL INDEFINITE PRONOUNS

Personal pronouns refer to specific people, places, things, or ideas. A pronoun that does not refer to a definite person, place, thing, or idea is called an indefinite pronoun.

Personal Pronouns	I	we	you	it	he	she	they (singular)	them
Indefinite Pronouns	anyone	both	somebody	each	everyone

Singular Indefinite Pronouns

8d The following indefinite pronouns are singular: each, either, neither, one, everyone, everybody, no one, nobody, anyone, anybody, someone, somebody.

EXAMPLES Each of the players wears a different hat.
 Does anybody have the correct time?

EXERCISE 6 Choosing Verbs That Agree in Number with Their Subjects

In each of the sentences below, underline the form of the verb in parentheses that agrees with the subject. Remember that the subject is never part of a prepositional phrase.

EX. Nobody in my classes (looks, look) like that!

- One of the firefighters (have, has) the frightened dog.
- Everyone in the front row (gets, get) wet on that ride.
- Don't take these lamps, because neither of them (works, work).

COLLECTIVE NOUNS AND INVERTED SENTENCES

- 8k Collective nouns may be either singular or plural. A collective noun takes a singular verb when the noun refers to the group as a unit. A collective noun takes a plural verb when the noun refers to the individual parts or members of the group.

A collective noun is singular in form but names a group of persons, animals, or things.

Common Collective Nouns audience	committee	group	swarm class	family	herd	team
club	flock	jury	troop

- EXAMPLES The team has earned the award. [The team as a unit has earned the award.]
The team have arrived in separate cars. [Individual team members are in separate cars.]

- 8l When the subject follows the verb, find the subject and make sure that the verb agrees with it. The subject usually follows the verb in sentences beginning with here or there and in questions.

- EXAMPLES Here is my computer.
There are new programs on the streaming service.
What were those noises?
Does lightning strike twice?

- NOTE When the subject of a sentence follows the verb, the word order is said to be inverted. To find the subject of a sentence with inverted order, restate the sentence in normal word order.

- | | |
|----------|---|
| INVERTED | In the city live several famous authors . |
| RESTATED | Several famous authors live in the city. |
| INVERTED | Were the Bennetts with you? |
| RESTATED | The Bennetts were with you. |

EXERCISE 13 Identifying Verbs That Agree in Number with Their Subjects

10. On Monday, the Austin Volunteers for Neighborhood Libraries (receives, receive) donated books.

Don't and Doesn't

80 Don't and doesn't must agree with their subjects.

The word don't is a contraction of do not, and doesn't is a contraction of does not. Use don't with all plural subjects and with the pronouns I and you.

EXAMPLES The clouds don't look threatening.

 I don't believe it!

 You don't need a coat.

Use doesn't with all singular subjects except I and you.

EXAMPLES The skateboard doesn't need paint.

 She doesn't have kneeguards.

 It doesn't work.

EXERCISE 16 Writing Original Sentences with Don't and Doesn't

You are taking two young cousins to the animal shelter where you volunteer. Your cousins are frightened by most animals, including dogs and cats. They are asking you lots of questions. You are trying to explain that they have nothing to fear. On the lines below, write five sentences about some of the animals. Explain why they are not to be feared or to be fed certain foods. Use don't and doesn't to agree with a different subject in each sentence.

EX. We don't give cow milk to the kittens, Otis.
 No, this dog doesn't want to be petted while it's eating.

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____
4. _____
5. _____

MODULE 8: AGREEMENT

PRONOUN-ANTECEDENT AGREEMENT

A pronoun usually refers to a noun or another pronoun called its antecedent.

8p A pronoun agrees with its antecedent in number and gender.

Some singular personal pronouns have forms that indicate gender. Feminine pronouns refer to females. Masculine pronouns refer to males. Neuter pronouns refer to things (neither masculine nor feminine) and usually to animals.

Feminine	she	her	hers
Masculine	he	him	his
Neuter	it	it	its

EXAMPLES Julie wondered if she would need her umbrella. [She and her are both feminine. They agree with the feminine antecedent Julie.]

Ruben asked if his friend could drop him at the corner. [His and him are both masculine. They agree with the masculine antecedent Ruben.]

The pan with the chili in it has lost its lid. [It and its are both neuter. They agree with pan, which is a thing.]

(1) Use a singular pronoun to refer to each, either, neither, one, everyone, everybody, no one, nobody, anyone, anybody, someone, or somebody.

EXAMPLES Everyone in the class took her or his project home. [Her and his are singular. Because Everyone may be either masculine or feminine, both forms are used.]

One of the exhibits lost its tag.

NOTE Today it is acceptable to use the singular they to describe an unknown person. In addition, it is acceptable to use the pronoun they in a gender-neutral way to describe a known person who does not use gender-specific pronouns such as he or she.

EXAMPLES Everybody brought their pets to the pet fair.

Sam is a student at the university. They are studying chemistry.

(2) Use a singular pronoun to refer to two or more singular antecedents joined by or.

EXAMPLES Either my mother or my aunt will bring her map.

Shane or Clay will lend us his travel guide.

(3) Use a plural pronoun to refer to two or more antecedents joined by and.

EXAMPLES Lono and Nick called their parents from the theater.

Hanako and her friend left early so that they could stop at the school.

EXERCISE 17 Identifying Antecedents and Writing Pronouns That Agree with Them

On the line in each sentence below, write a pronoun that will complete the meaning of the sentence. Then underline the antecedent, or antecedents, for that pronoun.

EX. Each of the women in the audience waved her hand.

1. Kitty and Bruno worked together on _____ scenes.
2. Either Vern or Mr. Park will lend me _____ jacket.
3. One of the curtains is falling off _____ rod.
4. Vern and Kitty laughed at _____ lines in the first scene.
5. Dawn or Sabrena will bring _____ books from home.
6. Each of the actors should say _____ lines slowly and clearly.
7. Mrs. Park and my mother saved _____ programs from last year.
8. Anyone can try out if _____ enjoys acting.
9. Neither script has marks in _____ margins.
10. The actors took _____ bows in front of a cheering crowd.

MODULE REVIEW

A. Proofreading Sentences for Subject-Verb Agreement

Most of the sentences below contain agreement errors. For each error, draw a line through the incorrect verb. Write the correct form on the line before the sentence. Write C if the sentence is correct.

EX. has Either the library or your teacher ~~have~~ the book.

- _____ 1. Here is the photographs of sod houses.
- _____ 2. The bricks of this house is made from grass-covered ground.
- _____ 3. First, a man or a woman have to cut the prairie grass short.

- _____ 8. Boards and bricks are available in most parts of the country.
- _____ 9. Gene and Mai is working on a model of a sod house.
- _____ 10. Paper bags or cloth are being used for windows.

B. Proofreading a Paragraph for Pronoun-Antecedent Agreement

Find the errors in pronoun-antecedent agreement in the following paragraph. Draw a line through each pronoun that does not agree with its antecedent. In the space above the incorrect pronoun, write the correct form or write C if the sentence is correct.

EX. Neither Lacie nor Kathy gave ^{her} their suggestions to Mr. Asari.

- [1] Everyone was supposed to suggest ideas for how their class dues should be spent.
- [2] Jodi and Brian wanted his money spent on a class trip. [3] Neither Isaac nor Theodore felt that their idea was better. [4] Each of the aquariums needs a new hose for their air system.

[5] However, no one said that they wanted their money spent to replace the hoses. [6] Either Tom or Mario gave their suggestion next. [7] Both thought that his class should buy something permanent. [8] Jodi and Brian nodded their heads to this suggestion. [9] Each of the students voted for their choice. [10] Tom and Mario were happy to see that their idea pleased most of their classmates.

C. Writing About Animal Camouflage

You have been asked to conduct a class for the Environmental Club. Your topic will be how various animals protect themselves with camouflage.

1. First, do some research on animal camouflage. You might check encyclopedias, books about animals, and other reference books.
2. Find information about two kinds of camouflage, color matching and shape matching, and the animals that use them. Then write at least two sentences about each kind of camouflage. Be sure to use subject-verb agreement and pronoun-antecedent agreement.

color matching: _____

shape matching: _____

MODULE 9: USING VERBS CORRECTLY

PRINCIPAL PARTS OF VERBS

The four basic forms of a verb are called the principal parts.

9a The principal parts of a verb are the present, the present participle, the past, and the past participle.

Present	Present Participle	Past	Past Participle
walk	(is) walking	walked	(have) walked make	(is) making	made	(have) made

Notice that the present participle and the past participle require helping or auxiliary verbs (forms of be and have).

The principal parts of a verb are used to express whether the action of the verb takes place in present, past, or future time.

PRESENT He makes homemade bread.

He is making a loaf of bread now.

PAST Yesterday they made rye bread.

They have often made bread together

FUTURE Tomorrow we will make more bread.

By next week, we will have made many more loaves.

Because walk forms its past and past participle by adding -ed, it is called a regular verb. Make forms its past and past participle differently, so it is called an irregular verb.

EXERCISE 1 Identifying the Time Expressed by Verbs

For each sentence below, study the verb form in italics. Look for other words that give clues about the time the verb expresses. On the line before each sentence, write PR if the action takes place in the present, PA if the action takes place in the past, or F if the action takes place in the future.

EX. past We have visited our cousins in Puerto Rico many times.

- _____ 1. You are talking too softly for us to understand your words.
- _____ 2. I heard a great joke yesterday.
- _____ 3. My family lived in Philadelphia for three years.
- _____ 4. Pete asked Felicia for a ride to last night's drama club meeting.
- _____ 5. Doty is driving to her guitar lesson in her new car.
- _____ 6. I will make your lunch in a few minutes.
- _____ 7. He will need a new coat in the fall.
- _____ 8. Abdul has already left for the movies.
- _____ 9. Please hurry, for they are waiting for us.
- _____ 10. We will sell tickets for the band concert next Wednesday at the mall.

EXERCISE 2 Identifying the Principal Parts of Verbs

On each line below, identify the principle part of the verb form shown. Write PR for present, PRP for present participle, PA for past, or PAP for past participle.

EX. PRP (is) playing

- | | |
|------------------------|--------------------------|
| _____ 1. sing | _____ 6. (has) started |
| _____ 2. (is) trying | _____ 7. helped |
| _____ 3. judged | _____ 8. (have) believed |
| _____ 4. (are) working | _____ 9. looked |
| _____ 5. clean | _____ 10. believe |

MODULE 9: USING VERBS CORRECTLY

REGULAR VERBS

- 9b A regular verb forms its past and past participle by adding -ed or -d to the present form.

Present	Present Participle	Past	Past Participle
wish	(is) wishing	wished	(have) wished hop	(is) hopping	hopped	(have) hopped happen	(is) happening	happened	(have) happened move	(is) moving	moved	(have) moved

EXERCISE 3 Writing the Forms of Regular Verbs

The present form is given for each of the following verbs. Fill in the chart with the present participle, past, and past participle of each verb.

Present	Present Participle	Past	Past Participle
EX. wish	(is) wishing	wished	(have) wished
1. look	(is)		(have)
2. select	(is)		(have)
3. shop	(is)		(have)
4. use	(is)		(have)
5. start	(is)		(have)

EXERCISE 4 Writing Sentences with Forms of Regular Verbs

Write a sentence using the correct form of each italicized verb below.

EX. past of call I called the jewelry store.

1. present participle of hope _____

2. past participle of enjoy _____

3. past of drop _____

4. past participle of raise _____

5. present participle of slip _____

6. past participle of talk _____

7. past of ask _____

8. present participle of answer _____

9. past of follow _____

10. present participle of laugh _____

MODULE 9: USING VERBS CORRECTLY

IRREGULAR VERBS

- 9c An irregular verb forms its past and past participle in some other way than by adding -d or -ed to the present form.

If you are not sure about the principal parts of a verb, look in a dictionary. An entry for an irregular verb lists the principal parts of the verb. If the principal parts are not given in the dictionary entry, the verb is a regular verb.

COMMON IRREGULAR VERBS
Present	Present Participle	Past	Past Participle
begin	(is) beginning	began	(have) begun

EXERCISE 6 Using Past and Past Participle Forms of Irregular Verbs to Write Interview Questions

A group of athletes has come to your school to train for the Olympics. You have been selected to interview the athletes. Your assignment is to find out facts about their backgrounds, training, skills, and hopes for winning gold medals. Write ten questions that you might ask these athletes. In your questions, use the past or past participle forms of at least ten verbs. Underline each verb (including any helping verbs) that you use.

EX. Why have you chosen to compete in the Olympics?

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

4. _____

5. _____

6. _____

7. _____

8. _____

9. _____

10. _____

MODULE 9: USING VERBS CORRECTLY

TENSE

- 9d The tense of a verb indicates the time of the action or of the state of being expressed by the verb.

Every verb has six tenses.

Tenses	Examples
Present	I see, you see, she sees
Past	I saw, we saw, they saw
Future	I will (shall) see, you will see, he will see
Present Perfect	I have seen, you have seen, she has seen
Past Perfect	I had seen, you had seen, he had seen
Future Perfect	I will (shall) have seen, she will have seen, they will have seen

This time line shows the relationship between the six tenses.

- 9e Do not change needlessly from one tense to another.

When writing about events that take place in the present, use verbs that are in the present tense. When writing about events that occurred in the past, use verbs that are in the past tense.

MODULE 9: USING VERBS CORRECTLY

SIT AND SET AND RISE AND RAISE

Sit and Set

9f The verb sit means “to be seated” or “to rest.” Sit seldom takes an object. The verb set means “to place” or “to put (something).” Set usually takes an object. Unlike sit, set has the same form for the present form, past, and past participle.

Present	Present Participle	Past	Past Participle
sit	(is) sitting	sat	(have) sat
set	(is) setting	set	(have) set

EXAMPLES Melita and I sat in the back of the room. [no object]
 Bobby Ray set the package on the table. [Bobby Ray set what? Package is the object.]
 Wilbur, my German shepherd, is sitting on the couch. [no object]
 Jonah is setting his luggage on the cart. [Jonah is setting what? Luggage is the object.]

EXERCISE 8 Writing the Forms of Sit and Set

On the line in each of the sentences below, write the correct form of sit or set.

- EX. Last night I sat in the kitchen and wrote a letter.
- Elmore _____ the chairs around the table.
 - Come _____ by the fire and talk to me.
 - The cat is _____ on the new rug in the den.
 - _____ your rake down and rest for a while.
 - The chess players have _____ at their game tables all morning.

Rise and Raise

9g The verb rise means “to move upward” or “to get up.” Rise almost never takes an object. The verb raise means “to lift (something) up.” Raise usually takes an object.

Present Form	Present Participle	Past	Past Participle
rise	(is) rising	rose	(have) risen
raise	(is) raising	raised	(have) raised

EXAMPLES The sun rose at six o'clock this morning. [no object]
 Franco raised his hand. [Franco raised what? Hand is the object.]
 According to the report, the price of wheat will rise next year. [no object]
 Melba will raise the curtain now. [Melba will raise what? Curtain is the object.]

EXERCISE 9 Identifying the Correct Forms of Rise and Raise

For each of the sentences below, underline the correct form of rise or raise in parentheses.

- EX. Everyone was silent as Lola (rose, raised) from her seat.
1. Should I (rise, raise) my voice so you can hear me more clearly?
 2. We like to watch the drawbridge (rise, raise).
 3. She explained that last summer she had (rose, raised) the price of her flowers.
 4. Two weeks after she planted the seeds, little plants (rose, raised) from the ground.
 5. As the heat was (rising, raising) during the summer, she watered the plants twice a day.

LIE AND LAY

- 9h The verb lie means “to recline,” “to be in place,” or “to remain lying down.” Lie never takes an object. The verb lay means “to put (something) down” or “to place (something).” Lay usually takes an object.

Present	Present Participle	Past	Past Participle
lie	(is) lying	lay	(have) lain
lay	(is) laying	laid	(have) laid

- EXAMPLES The dog is lying in the sun. [no object]
 Janos is laying the plates on the table. [Janos is laying what? Plates is the object.]
- Last night, I lay in bed and thought about our picnic. [no object]
 Before class, I laid the book on the desk. [I laid what? Book is the object.]

EXERCISE 10 Identifying the Correct Forms of Lie and Lay

For each of the sentences below, underline the correct form of lie or lay in parentheses.

- EX. The Delaware River (lies, lays) on the western border of New Jersey.
1. Last night, we (lay, laid) our sleeping bags in the back of the van.
 2. You kids can (lie, lay) there and nap during our long trip to New Jersey.
 3. Don't forget your phone with the GPS app, which is (lying, laying) on the kitchen table.
 4. Oh, no! I think the beach towels (lay, laid) in the washer all night.
 5. (Lie, Lay) them over the kitchen chairs so that they will be dry before we leave.

EXERCISE 11 Writing the Forms of Lie and Lay

Complete each of the sentences below by filling in the blank with the correct form of lie or lay.

EX. After the storm yesterday, deep puddles of water lay in the driveway.

1. Please _____ your papers on my desk.
2. My sweater was covered with dog hair after the dog had _____ on it.
3. Hans had _____ your library books on the table in the hall.

6. Vietnam _____ on the eastern coast of mainland Southeast Asia.
7. Maria has already _____ compost on the new garden.
8. We had _____ on the beach too long in the hot sun.
9. _____ the tablecloth on the table while I get the plates and glasses.
10. Workers are _____ a new surface on the northbound side of Route 95.

EXERCISE 12 Proofreading for the Correct Forms of Lie and Lay

Most of the sentences below contain errors in the use of lie and lay. If a sentence contains the wrong verb form, write the correct form on the line before the sentence. If a sentence is correct, write C on the line before it.

EX. lying Empty soda cans were laying all over the field after the concert.

- _____ 1. Do horses lay down to rest?
- _____ 2. Before bed, he lay more wood on the fire.
- _____ 3. Ernest was lying on the couch, reading the newspaper.
- _____ 4. Barbara has lain the puzzle pieces out on the card table.
- _____ 5. When he finished reading, Parvis lay his book on the shelf.

MODULE 9: USING VERBS CORRECTLY

MODULE REVIEW

A. Identifying the Correct Forms of Sit and Set, Rise and Raise, and Lie and Lay

For each of the sentences below, underline the correct form of the verb in parentheses.

EX. When the man asked who wanted the extra tickets, I (rose, raised) my hand.

1. We were (sitting, setting) in the front row at the concert.
2. The lights dimmed as a platform (rose, raised) from beneath the stage.
3. Workers had (sat, set) that platform beneath a hidden trapdoor.
4. On the platform, they had (lain, laid) a red carpet, and on the carpet they had (set, sat) a couple of stools.
5. Even with the lights dimmed, we could see that someone was (sitting, setting) on one of the stools.
6. Suddenly, the lights (rose, raised) to full power.
7. Then Linda (rose, raised) her head and smiled.

9. She began to sing as she (sat, set) there.
10. The audience (rose, raised) from their seats to join her as she sang "The Star-Spangled Banner."

B. Proofreading a Paragraph for Correct Verb Forms

Most of the sentences in the following paragraph contain incorrect verb forms. If a sentence contains an error, draw a line through the wrong form of the verb. Write the correct form above the verb. Write C above sentences in which the verb forms are correct.

EX. grew
Ann Petry ~~grewed~~ up in Connecticut.

[1] Ann Petry goed to college at the University of Connecticut. [2] After graduating from college, she begun her career as a pharmacist. [3] Later, she solded advertisements for a newspaper. [4] Eventually, she raised to the position of newspaper reporter. [5] Her newspaper career leads her to write novels and short stories. [6] She has wrote many novels and nonfiction books. [7] As she wrote those works, she used her own experiences and interests as background.

[8] The Street told a story about life in a Harlem neighborhood. [9] Harriet Tubman: Conductor on the Underground Railroad gave readers valuable information about slavery in the United States. [10] Petry’s books have become very popular with readers all over the world.

C. Using Regular and Irregular Verbs to Write a Letter

Choose an interesting place anywhere in the world that you would like to visit. Go online to gather information about the place. What interesting sights might you see there? What historical events might you learn about during your visit? Imagine you got to visit this place, and write a letter to tell a friend at home about your trip. In your letter, describe some of the sights that you have seen so far. Use at least five regular verbs and five irregular verbs in your letter. Proofread your finished letter for correct use of verb tenses. Underline the verbs that you use.

EX. Dear Taja,
I visited the Galapagos Islands yesterday! I saw an extremely old tortoise.

MODULE 10: USING PRONOUNS CORRECTLY

CASE OF PRONOUNS

10a Case is the form of a noun or pronoun that shows how it is used. There are three cases: nominative, objective, and possessive.

The form of a noun is the same for the nominative and the objective cases.

NOMINATIVE CASE The teacher asked a question. [noun used as subject]

OBJECTIVE CASE Bianca answered the teacher. [noun used as a direct object]

A noun changes its form only in the possessive case, usually by adding an apostrophe and an s.

POSSESSIVE CASE The teacher's question was about geography.

Unlike nouns, most personal pronouns have different forms for the nominative, objective, and possessive cases.

PERSONAL PRONOUNS
Singular
Nominative Case	Objective Case	Possessive Case
I	me	my, mine
you	you	your, yours
he, she, it, (they)	him, her, it, (them)	his, her, hers, its, (their, theirs)
Plural
Nominative Case	Objective Case	Possessive Case
we	us	our, ours
you	you	your, yours
they	them	their, theirs

NOTES Some teachers prefer to call possessive forms of pronouns (such as our, your, and their) adjectives. Follow your teacher's instructions regarding possessive forms.

Today it is acceptable for writers or speakers to use the pronoun they in a gender-neutral way to describe a known person who does not use gender-specific pronouns such as he or she. In addition, the singular they is used in informal speech to describe an unknown person and is also accepted in formal writing.

EXAMPLES Someone just left the restaurant and they left their phone on the table. (unknown person)

Addy is a freshman in high school. They like soccer and working on the school newspaper. (known person)

EXERCISE 1 Identifying Personal Pronoun Forms

Identify the case of each italicized pronoun in the following sentences. On the line before each sentence, write N for nominative, O for objective, and P for possessive.

EX. O I showed him the mural on the school wall.

- 1. My mother carves wooden animals.
- 2. Did you read about the baseball player Hank Aaron?
- 3. The teacher told us to write two haiku poems each.
- 4. Sonya and I painted the doghouse purple.
- 5. It was our idea to have an international food festival.
- 6. Phillis Wheatley was one of the first African American poets to have her poems published.
- 7. That book is his to take home and study.
- 8. They wanted to start a school newspaper.
- 9. Did Antonio give you a tour of his home?
- 10. The watercolor painting in the hall is mine.

NOMINATIVE CASE PRONOUNS

10b The subject of a verb is in the nominative case.

A subject tells whom or what the sentence is about.

EXAMPLES We have a parakeet named Pícaro. [We is the subject of have.]
 It is a beautiful bird. [It is the subject of is.]
 She and I taught Pícaro to speak. [She and I are used together as the compound subject of taught.]

To help you choose the correct pronoun in a compound subject, try each form of the pronoun separately.

EXAMPLE My brother and (I, me) like Pícaro.
 I like Pícaro.
 Me like Pícaro.

ANSWER My brother and I like Pícaro.

EXAMPLE (He, Him) and (I, me) played with Pícaro.
 He played with Pícaro.
 Him played with Pícaro.
 I played with Pícaro.
 Me played with Pícaro.

ANSWER He and I played with Pícaro.

10c A predicate nominative is in the nominative case.

A predicate nominative follows a linking verb and identifies or explains the subject of the verb. A pronoun used as a predicate nominative usually identifies the subject and follows a form of the verb be (such as am, are, is, was, were, be, been, or being).

EXAMPLES The winner of the contest was he. [He follows the linking verb was and identifies the subject winner.]
 The winners should have been she and I. [She and I follow the linking verb should have been and identify the subject winners.]

NOTE In informal, everyday conversation, people often use forms such as It's me and That was her. However, these forms are not standard, formal English.

EXERCISE 2 Choosing Pronouns Used as Subjects

In each sentence below, underline the pronoun or pair of pronouns that completes the sentence correctly.

EX. Roberto and (she, her) collect stamps.

1. Yesterday, Roberto and (me, I) got together with our stamp albums.
2. For an hour or so, (we, us) traded stamps.
3. Then (him and me, he and I) read the advertisements in the latest issues of Stamp Collecting and Stamp Digest.
4. (They, Them) are two magazines for stamp collectors.
5. (He, Him) saw an advertisement for unusual stamps from Angola.

EXERCISE 3 Proofreading Sentences for Correct Use of Nominative Case Pronouns

Check each sentence carefully. If a sentence below contains the wrong form of a pronoun, write the correct form on the line before the sentence. If a sentence contains no errors, write C on the line.

EX. he The person who wrote that poem might have been him.

1. Are your favorite poets Langston Hughes and her?
2. It was she who wrote the poem "Metaphor."
3. The best poets in our class are him and I.
4. The poems included in our program should have been them.
5. Among the poets in this book are Dorothy Parker and he.

MODULE 10: USING PRONOUNS CORRECTLY

OBJECTIVE CASE PRONOUNS

10d Direct objects and indirect objects of verbs are in the objective case.

A direct object follows an action verb and tells whom or what receives the action of the verb.

EXAMPLES Mrs. Delaney called me last night. [Me tells whom Mrs. Delaney called.]

Sam returned them to the library. [Them tells what Sam returned to the library.]

An indirect object comes between an action verb and a direct object. It tells to whom or to what or for whom or for what the action is done.

EXAMPLES The plants are dry; I'll give them some water. [Them tells to what I'll give water. Water, the direct object, tells what I'll give.]

Dr. Irwin bought us the tickets. [Us tells for whom Dr. Irwin bought the tickets. Tickets, the direct object, tells what he bought.]

To choose the correct pronoun in a compound object, try each form of the pronoun separately in the sentence.

EXAMPLE Bob invited Heta and (she, her). [Bob invited she. Bob invited her.]

ANSWER Bob invited Heta and her.

EXERCISE 4 Writing Pronouns Used as Direct Objects and Indirect Objects

Complete each sentence below by writing an appropriate pronoun on the line in the sentence. Use a variety of pronouns, but do not use you or it.

EX. I met Ossie and her at the movies last night.

1. Karina wants you to call _____ as soon as possible.
2. We think you should give _____ another chance.
3. Gina loaned _____ a pencil because I didn't have one.
4. Daniel just got here. Tell _____ that joke you heard last night.
5. Our team beat _____ in the tournament.

EXERCISE 5 Identifying Correct Pronoun Forms

Each sentence below contains two pronouns in parentheses. Complete each sentence by underlining the correct pronoun.

EX. The mayor gave (we, us) an award.

1. The city council nominated Rafael and (I, me) because we worked hard all summer to clean up the vacant lot.
2. Other students helped (we, us), too.
3. When the workers were finished, the boss presented (they, them) with a letter from the city.
4. Turning the lot into a park helped the city and (we, us).
5. People in the neighborhood loaned Melba and (she, her) rakes and brooms.

EXERCISE 6 Proofreading Sentences for Correct Use of Pronouns

If a sentence below contains an incorrect pronoun, draw a line through the pronoun and then write the correct pronoun on the line before the sentence. If the sentence contains no pronoun errors, write C on the line.

EX. me Aunt Lois joined Tina and I at the auditorium.

1. Mr. Tamaka chose her and Philippe for the leading roles in the play.
2. The director called Sue and they for another audition.
3. Tina told Phoebe and I about the rehearsal schedule.
4. On Tuesday, my mother drove me to the rehearsal.
5. The dancers in the play gave Symon and she flowers after the performance.

MODULE 10: USING PRONOUNS CORRECTLY

PRONOUNS AS OBJECTS OF PREPOSITIONS

10e The object of a preposition is in the objective case.

A prepositional phrase is a group of words consisting of a preposition, a noun or a pronoun that serves as the object of the preposition, and any modifiers of that object.

EXAMPLES June waved at us. [Us is the object of the preposition at.]

The letter was addressed to her and me. [Her and me are the compound object of the preposition to.]

EXERCISE 7 Choosing Correct Pronouns Used as Objects of Prepositions

Complete each sentence below by underlining the correct pronoun or pair of pronouns in parentheses.

EX. The food was shared by (he and she, him and her).

1. Please pass the enchiladas to (me, I).
2. Enchiladas are rolled tortillas that have cheese or some other filling in (they, them).
3. Aunt Sofia gave this recipe for enchiladas to my brother and (I, me).
4. It is the best recipe for (we, us).
5. After softening the tortillas, put meat, cheese, or another filling in (they, them).
6. Roll up the tortillas and put grated cheese on top of (they, them).
7. Listen to (him and I, him and me) talk about the cooking directions.
8. Why don't you stay and eat dinner with (us, we)?
9. Just between you and (I, me), this will be one of the best meals you've ever tasted.
10. According to (him, he), we should eat enchiladas every day of the week.

EXERCISE 8 Using Pronouns as Objects of Prepositions

Each sentence below contains a noun or a phrase in italics. On the line before each sentence, write a pronoun that could be used to replace the italicized word or words.

EX. them Hillary sent postcards to Wanda and Sue.

- _____ 1. An interesting man sat between my sister and me on the airplane.
- _____ 2. My sister stayed close to Mom and Dad as we walked through the airport.
- _____ 3. This was an exciting but scary experience for my sister.
- _____ 4. The steward on the plane gave snacks to all the passengers.
- _____ 5. In spite of the crying baby, we had a good flight.
- _____ 6. For Dad, this would be a business trip.
- _____ 7. While Dad worked, we stayed with Aunt Isobelle in Amsterdam.
- _____ 8. Aunt Isobelle toured the canals along with my sister and me.
- _____ 9. Everyone toured the house where Anne Frank had lived except Aunt Isobelle.
- _____ 10. Then we went to see paintings by Vincent van Gogh at a local museum.

MODULE 10: USING PRONOUNS CORRECTLY

WHO AND WHOM

10f The pronoun who has different forms in the nominative and objective cases. Who is the nominative form. Whom is the objective form.

NOTE In spoken English, the use of whom is becoming less common. In fact, when you are speaking, you may correctly begin any question with who regardless of the grammar of the sentence. In written English, however, you should distinguish between who and whom.

When you need to decide whether to use who or whom in a question, follow these steps:

Step 1: Rephrase the question as a statement.

Step 2: If you can replace the word with he, she, or they, use who. If you can replace the word with him, her, or them, use whom.

EXAMPLE (Who, Whom) are those men?

Step 1: The statement is Those men are (who, whom).

Step 2: If you can replace the word with he, she, or they, use who. If you can replace the word with him, her, or them, use whom.

Those men are they. CORRECT

Those men are them. INCORRECT

ANSWER Who are those men?

EXERCISE 9 Choosing Who or Whom

In each sentence below, underline the correct pronoun form.

EX. (Who, Whom) did he choose?

1. (Who, Whom) is your coach?
2. The winners of the game were (who, whom)?
3. To (who, whom) did you loan my book?
4. (Who, Whom) have we forgotten to put on the list?
5. (Who, Whom) did you sit beside in math class?
6. (Who, Whom) is the present for?
7. For (who, whom) did you make that burrito?
8. In the fourth quarter, he passed the ball to (who, whom)?
9. With (who, whom) will you share your orange?
10. (Who, Whom) is your science teacher?

EXERCISE 10 Proofreading for Errors in the Use of Who and Whom

If a sentence below contains an error in the use of who or whom, write the correct pronoun on the line before the sentence. If a sentence contains no errors, write C on the line.

EX. Whom Who have you invited to the party?

- _____ 1. Who called while I was in the shower?
- _____ 2. Whom will get your vote for class president?
- _____ 3. For who did Zeinab design that costume?
- _____ 4. With whom are we going to the movies?
- _____ 5. Whom wants another carrot stick?

MODULE 10: USING PRONOUNS CORRECTLY

PRONOUN APPOSITIVES AND REFLEXIVE PRONOUNS

PRONOUNS AS APPOSITIVES

Sometimes a pronoun is followed directly by a noun that identifies the pronoun. Such a noun is called an appositive.

EXAMPLE We students held a car wash. [The noun students is an appositive identifying the pronoun we.]

10g In deciding which pronoun to use before an appositive, omit the appositive, and try each form of the pronoun separately.

EXAMPLE Last night, (we, us) musicians had a concert. [We had a concert. Us had a concert.]

ANSWER Last night, we musicians had a concert.

EXAMPLE The police officer thanked (we, us) volunteers. [The police officer thanked we. The police officer thanked us.]

ANSWER The police officer thanked us volunteers.

EXERCISE 11 Choosing Correct Pronouns for Appositives

Complete each sentence below by filling in the blank with either the pronoun we or the pronoun us.

EX. That was an exciting game for us Cardinals.

1. _____ pet owners should take our animals to the veterinarian for regular checkups.
2. The store gave _____ clerks a large raise in our hourly pay.
3. Yesterday _____ Orioles fans were disappointed at the outcome of the game.
4. Sadly, _____ farmers have had very little rain for our crops this year.
5. Who will design the costumes for _____ chorus members?

REFLEXIVE PRONOUNS

A reflexive pronoun refers to the subject and directs the action of the verb back to the subject.

REFLEXIVE PRONOUNS
First Person	myself, ourselves
Second Person	yourself, yourselves
Third Person	himself, herself, itself, themselves

10h The reflexive pronouns himself and themselves can be used as objects. Don't use the nonstandard forms hissself and theirselves or theirselves in place of himself and themselves.

INCORRECT The farmer made hissself a shed for his tractor.

CORRECT The farmer made himself a shed for his tractor.

INCORRECT Of course, most candidates vote for theirselves.

CORRECT Of course, most candidates vote for themselves.

EXERCISE 12 Identifying Correct Pronoun Forms

For each of the sentences below, underline the correct pronoun in parentheses.

EX. They helped (themselves, theirselves) to the lemonade.

1. Ansel Adams really enjoyed (hissself, himself) while taking pictures.
2. People who gossip should keep their words to (themselves, theirselves).
3. Virgil and his friends often keep to (theirselves, themselves) and rarely come to our meetings.
4. While preparing for the test, Elton asked (hissself, himself) many review questions.
5. All by (himself, hissself), John built a playhouse for his little brother.

MODULE 10: USING PRONOUNS CORRECTLY

MODULE REVIEW

A. Identifying Correct Pronoun Forms

For each of the sentences below, underline the correct pronoun in parentheses.

EX. Frank sent Gina and (she, her) a letter.

1. Craig St. Clair and (he, him) have become very successful high school coaches.
2. They told (themselves, themselves) not to be afraid on the roller coaster.
3. (Who, Whom) have you told about your experience in Milan?
4. The librarian was very helpful to Samantha and (me, I).
5. (We, Us) volunteers are always happy to help out in an emergency.

B. Correcting Errors in Pronoun Use

Most sentences in the paragraph below contain at least one error each in the use of pronoun forms. Correct each pronoun error by drawing a line through it and writing the correct pronoun form above it. Write C above each sentence that is correct.

us

EX. For ~~we~~ athletes, Kenny Walker is an inspiration.

[1] As a young child, Kenny Walker set a goal for hisself. [2] He would not let being deaf stop him from achieving his dreams. [3] At school the other children and him played games at recess. [4] Because Kenny was deaf, the team captains often picked he last. [5] To they, Kenny was someone who might not have the skills to play. [6] However, Kenny and his mother told theirselves not to give up. [7] Between him and she, they made a promise to work and train. [8] By the time his friends and him were in high school, Kenny was a great football player. [9] He went on to the University of Nebraska, where he became the defensive player of the year in the Big Eight. [10] Whom was Kenny after college? [11] He was a defensive end for the Denver Broncos. [12] To us football fans, his story is one of courage and strength.

[13] Every time he ran out onto the playing field, Kenny Walker taught an important lesson to you and I. [14] Us players should always keep that lesson in mind. [15] People can often succeed even when they are challenged. [16] It seems to me that every person has problems and challenges special to him or her. [17] Each of us people must work hard to deal with those problems and challenges. [18] Kenny Walker believed in himself. [19] He showed you and I that dreams can come true if a person is willing to work hard. [20] My favorite player is him, Kenny Walker.

MODULE 11: USING MODIFIERS CORRECTLY

COMPARISON OF ADJECTIVES AND ADVERBS

11a The three degrees of comparison of modifiers—adjectives and adverbs—are the positive, the comparative, and the superlative.

(1) The positive degree is used when only one thing is being described.

EXAMPLES The water is cold.
 Brad swam swiftly to shore.

(2) The comparative degree is used when two things are being compared.

EXAMPLES This water is colder than the water in Florida.
 Tanya swam more swiftly than the girl in the next pool lane.

(3) The superlative degree is used when three or more things are being compared.

EXAMPLES The water in Maine is the coldest of any water I've found.
 Of all the racers, Brad swam the most swiftly.

REGULAR COMPARISON

Most one-syllable modifiers form their comparative and superlative degrees by adding -er and -est. Notice that both adjectives and adverbs form their degrees of comparison in the same way.

Positive	Comparative	Superlative
warm	warmer	warmest
thin	thinner	thinnest
straight	straighter	straightest
fast	faster	fastest

Some two-syllable modifiers form their comparative and superlative degrees by adding -er and -est. Other two-syllable modifiers form their higher degrees of comparison using more or most. To show a lower degree of comparison, modifiers form the comparative degree by using less and the superlative degree by using least.

Positive	Comparative	Superlative
funny	funnier	funniest
tiny	tinier	tiniest
cheerful	more cheerful	most cheerful often	more often	most often sneaky	less sneaky	least sneaky extreme	less extreme	least extreme

Modifiers that have three or more syllables form the comparative degree by using more or less and the superlative degree by using most or least.

Positive	Comparative	Superlative
difficult	less difficult	least difficult important	more important	most important thoughtfully	less thoughtfully	least thoughtfully
mysteriously	more mysteriously	most mysteriously

EXERCISE 1 Forming Degrees of Comparison of Modifiers

On the lines provided, write the forms for the comparative and superlative degrees of each of the following modifiers. Use a dictionary as necessary.

- EX. sharp sharper/less sharp sharpest/least sharp
- costly _____ _____
 - independent _____ _____
 - wise _____ _____
 - lightly _____ _____
 - beautiful _____ _____
 - hungry _____ _____
 - cautiously _____ _____
 - hopeful _____ _____
 - proud _____ _____
 - shyly _____ _____

MODULE 11: USING MODIFIERS CORRECTLY

IRREGULAR COMPARISON

11b Some modifiers form their comparative and superlative forms in other ways.

Positive	Comparative	Superlative
bad	worse	worst
far	farther	farthest
good	better	best
well	better	best
many	more	most

EXERCISE 2 Writing Comparative and Superlative Forms of Modifiers

On the line before each of the sentences below, write the correct form of the modifier in parentheses. Use a dictionary as necessary.

EX. best Aunt Eliana makes the (good) enchiladas I have ever tasted.

1. Jeremy swam (far) than any of the other boys.
2. Joe has collected (many) sports cards than Tim.
3. In the state swimming meet, Kelly performed (well) than she ever had before.
4. Yori is (good) in math than in spelling.
5. The country with the (many) people is China.
6. The flooding is threatening to become (bad) than last month's flooding.
7. Neptune is the (far) planet from the sun.
8. This is the (much) money I have ever saved!
9. Hurricane Irma was one of the (bad) storms to hit Florida in recent times.
10. After taking medicine for three days, he felt (well) than he had in two weeks.

EXERCISE 3 Using Comparative and Superlative Forms of Modifiers

In the blanks in the following paragraph, write appropriate modifiers of the words good, many, and well.

EX. The worst act in the variety show was the one with the dancing poodles.

[1] Yesterday, we went to see a really _____ show at the Grayson theater. [2] It was a variety show with _____ funny, quirky, unusual acts. [3] Perhaps the _____ bizarre of all the acts was the guy who played “The Battle Hymn of the Republic” by banging on a lot of plumbing fixtures. I enjoyed the folk singer from Chile. [4] She sang really _____. However, my favorite act was the gospel singer. [5] Hers was the _____ performance of the evening.

EXERCISE 4 Writing Sentences with Correct Forms of Modifiers

You are a movie reviewer. Think about your favorite or least favorite movies and their plots, characters, actors, and endings. In your review, write five complete sentences that form the higher and lower degree of comparisons by using the comparative and superlative forms of modifiers. Put two lines under the comparative and superlative degrees of modifiers.

EX. The funniest movie I have ever seen is Home Alone. Macaulay Culkin is quicker than the crooks and better than they are at setting traps.

MODULE 11: USING MODIFIERS CORRECTLY

SPECIAL PROBLEMS IN USING MODIFIERS

11c Use good to modify a noun or a pronoun. Use well to modify a verb.

EXAMPLES Julio enjoys reading a good mystery story. [Good modifies the noun story.]
 The dinner that you made was a good one. [Good modifies the pronoun one.]
 His broken leg is healing well. [Well modifies the verb phrase is healing.]

Good should not be used to modify a verb.

INCORRECT Lydia speaks Spanish good.

CORRECT Lydia speaks Spanish well.

11d Use adjectives, not adverbs, after linking verbs.

A linking verb such as look, feel, and become, is often followed by a predicate adjective. The adjective modifies the subject.

EXAMPLE Kadeem looked nervous on stage. [The predicate adjective nervous modifies the subject Kadeem.]

NOTE Some linking verbs can also be used as action verbs. As action verbs, they may be modified by adverbs.

EXAMPLE Tegan looked wistfully at the new computers. [Wistfully modifies the action verb looked.]

EXERCISE 5 Using Adjectives and Adverbs Correctly

On the line before each sentence, write the correct adjective or adverb from the pair in parentheses.

EX. sad Jerry felt (sad, sadly) about losing the race.

- _____ 1. Cynthia had a fever and didn't look (good, well).
_____ 2. The flowers grew (quick, quickly) in the garden.
_____ 3. If you like scary movies, you will think that this is a (good, well) one.

- _____ 4. Please stay (quiet, quietly) during the play.
_____ 5. That camera takes (good, well) pictures.
_____ 6. The tortillas smell (fresh, freshly).
_____ 7. That plant will not grow (strong, strongly) without water and sun.
_____ 8. The band practiced all week and sounds (well, good) now.
_____ 9. Rebecca writes poetry (good, well).
_____ 10. The dog smells his food (careful, carefully) before eating it.

EXERCISE 6 Finding and Correcting Misused Modifiers in a Paragraph

In the paragraph below, there are ten misused modifiers. Draw a line through each mistake and write the correct form above it.

surely
EX. I ~~sure~~ enjoyed the movie.

[1] I could tell that summer was coming quick. [2] And I am happily that it is almost summer. [3] According to the weather forecaster, it will be a well summer with lots of sun. [4] When I go to the beach this summer, I have to be carefully that I do not get a sunburn. [5] The cold water at the beach feels well on a hot day. [6] I always run into the waves and get wet quick. [7] Some of my friends ease in slow. [8] If the wind blows good, we fly a kite at the water's edge. [9] Sometimes I walk along the high-water mark and look close for interesting shells or stones. [10] I know I will feel sadly when summer is over.

MODULE 11: USING MODIFIERS CORRECTLY

DOUBLE COMPARISONS

11e Avoid double comparisons.

A double comparison is the use of both -er and more (less) or -est and most (least) to form a comparison. When you make a comparison, use only one form, not both.

INCORRECT Dad's old car had a more smoother ride than his new one has.

CORRECT Dad's old car had a smoother ride than his new one has.

INCORRECT This is the most quickest way to the airport.

CORRECT This is the quickest way to the airport.

11f Avoid the use of double negatives.

A double negative is the use of two negative words to express one negative idea.

Common Negative Words barely	never	none	nothing
hardly	no	no one	nowhere
neither	nobody	not (-n't)	scarcely

INCORRECT Shing didn't have none of his allowance left.

CORRECT Shing had none of his allowance left.

INCORRECT She couldn't find a seat nowhere else on the train.

CORRECT She could find a seat nowhere else on the train.

CORRECT She couldn't find a seat anywhere else on the train.

EXERCISE 7 Eliminating Double Comparisons and Double Negatives

Revise the following sentences to eliminate the double comparisons and double negatives.

EX. Math seems more easier this year than last year.

Math seems easier this year than last year.

1. Jon had not never been out of the country. _____

2. Penny won't never forget her best friend. _____

3. Traffic is most heaviest around five o'clock in the afternoon. _____

4. Ted isn't going to the meeting neither. _____

5. The baby was more quieter than a mouse. _____

6. Are you working more longer than you used to? _____

7. I am not doing nothing tonight. _____

8. Hasn't James never seen the ocean? _____

9. Dominique couldn't never be mean to anyone. _____

10. Of all the members of the basketball team, Antonio is the most shortest. _____

EXERCISE 8 Revising to Correct Double Comparisons and Double Negatives

Rewrite the paragraph below, correcting nonstandard use of modifiers.

- EX. The Mbuti live in the Congo region in one of the world's most richest forests.
 The Mbuti live in the Congo region in one of the world's richest forests.

[1] The Mbuti don't use nothing but leaves and branches to build a village. [2] A woman starts building a hut by making a dome from the more younger trees in a clearing. [3] Leaves cover this dome, keeping out the most worst rain and winds. [4] The Mbuti never live hardly more than two months in one place. [5] They move on to make a new village where food sources are more closer.

MODULE 11: USING MODIFIERS CORRECTLY

PLACEMENT OF MODIFIERS

11g Place modifying phrases and clauses as close as possible to the words they modify.

Notice how the meaning of these sentences changes when the position of the phrase across the street changes.

- EXAMPLES The woman across the street opened a clothing shop for children. [The phrase modifies woman.]
 The woman opened a clothing shop for children across the street. [The phrase modifies children.]
 Across the street, the woman opened a clothing shop for children. [The phrase modifies opened.]

A prepositional phrase is a group of words consisting of a preposition, a noun or pronoun that serves as the object of the preposition, and any modifiers of that object. A prepositional phrase used as an adjective should be placed directly after the word it modifies.

MISPLACED The dog ran up to Julie with long, shaggy hair.

CLEAR The dog with long, shaggy hair ran up to Julie.

A prepositional phrase used as an adverb should be placed near the word it modifies.

MISPLACED Janet read about a lost kitten in that magazine.

CLEAR In that magazine, Janet read about a lost kitten.

Avoid placing a prepositional phrase so that it seems to modify either of two words. Place the phrase so that it clearly modifies the word you intend it to modify.

MISPLACED Rico said on Friday he had found a missing wallet. [Does the phrase modify said or found?]

CLEAR Rico said that he had found a missing wallet on Friday.

CLEAR On Friday, Rico said that he had found a missing wallet.

EXERCISE 9 Revising Sentences with Misplaced Prepositional Phrases

The meaning of each of the following sentences is not clear because the modifying phrase is misplaced. Decide where the phrase belongs. Then write the revised sentence on the line.

- EX. Willis gave a speech to explain how to look for a job at the new civic center.
Willis gave a speech at the new civic center to explain how to look for a job.

1. The girl is jogging around the park from next door. _____

2. The boy was riding on a bicycle in blue polka-dot shorts. _____

3. She gave the gift to the boy with the pink wrapping paper. _____

4. I heard a report that a bad storm is coming on the radio. _____

5. The train arrived after we had lunch from San Diego. _____

EXERCISE 10 Placing Prepositional Phrases Correctly

Rewrite each of the following sentences by adding the prepositional phrase given in parentheses. Be careful to place each prepositional phrase near the word or words it modifies.

- EX. Many paintings show strange, fantastical scenes. (by Marc Chagall)
Many paintings by Marc Chagall show strange, fantastical scenes.

1. Elaine put the shirt on the baby. (with green stripes)

2. The monkey was chattering at the children. (in the tree)

3. The girl is making a dress. (with pigtails)

4. We learned that a big blizzard was coming. (from Aunt Melanie)

5. The boy was walking the dog. (with the red boots)

PLACEMENT OF PARTICIPIAL PHRASES AND ADJECTIVE CLAUSES

11h A participial phrase consists of a verb form—either a present participle or a past participle—and its related words. A participial phrase modifies a noun or a pronoun. Like a prepositional phrase, a participial phrase should be placed as close as possible to the word that it modifies.

EXAMPLES Listening to the radio, she heard her favorite song. [The participial phrase modifies she.]

Greg's violin, bought at a secondhand store, is actually a valuable antique. [The participial phrase modifies violin.]

A participial phrase that is not placed next to the noun or pronoun that it modifies is a misplaced modifier.

MISPLACED Lying on the back seat of the car, Jon found his guitar.

CLEAR Jon found his guitar lying on the back seat of the car.

A participial phrase that does not clearly and sensibly modify a word in the sentence is a dangling participle.

DANGLING Visiting the city's animal shelter, the perfect puppy was found.

CLEAR Visiting the city's animal shelter, we found the perfect puppy.

11i An adjective clause modifies a noun or a pronoun. Most adjective clauses begin with a relative pronoun—that, which, who, whom, or whose.

MISPLACED My Uncle Len works for a paint company who is trying to grow a beard.

CLEAR My Uncle Len, who is trying to grow a beard, works for a paint company.

EXERCISE 11 Revising Sentences to Correct Errors in the Use of Modifiers

On the lines below, revise the sentences to correct the errors in the placement of modifiers. [Hint: You will need to add, delete, or rearrange some words.]

EX. The band began to play for the huge audience marching down the football field.

8. We saw a herd of deer driving along the freeway. _____

9. The Battle of Saratoga saved the American Revolution which was fought in 1777. _____

10. I found a book at the library that was written by Amy Tan. _____

MODULE 11: USING MODIFIERS CORRECTLY

MODULE REVIEW

A. Correcting Misplaced and Dangling Modifiers

Each of the following sentences contains a dangling or misplaced modifier. On the lines after each sentence, rewrite the sentence so that it is clear and correct.

- EX. The car was driven by the man with new paint and white sidewall tires.
 The man drove the car with new paint and white sidewall tires.

1. He told us that he had saved his allowance for a year to buy the bike at the party.

2. Hurtling through space, some scientists think asteroids will someday hit the earth.

3. Driving to the mall, a shortcut was discovered.

4. An orange lay on the table that had been peeled.

5. I got a dog from the pet shop that is only six weeks old.

MODULE 12: A GLOSSARY OF USAGE

ACCEPT / AS (LIKE)

The lessons on the next few pages contain a glossary, or alphabetical list, of common problems in English usage. You will notice that a number of examples used in this glossary are labeled standard or nonstandard. Standard English is used in formal situations, such as speeches and assignments for school. It is also used in informal situations, such as conversations and everyday writing. Nonstandard English does not follow the rules and guidelines of standard English.

accept, except Accept is a verb that means “to receive.” Except may be either a verb or a preposition. As a verb, it means “to leave out.” As a preposition, it means “excluding.”

EXAMPLES Theo accepted the award. [verb]

Because she is not feeling well, Meredith will be excepted from play rehearsal.
[verb]

Everyone except Sienna attended the concert. [preposition] ain’t Avoid this word in speaking and writing. It is nonstandard English. Use is not, am not, or are not.

all right Used as an adjective, all right means “satisfactory” or “unhurt.” Used as an adverb, all right means “well enough.” All right should always be written as two words. (Alright is nonstandard English.)

EXAMPLES The weather looks all right for a picnic. [adjective]

Rosie did all right in the spelling contest. [adverb]

a lot A lot should always be written as two words.

EXAMPLE There is a lot of food left over from Jon’s birthday party.

already, all ready Already means “previously.” All ready means “completely prepared.”

EXAMPLES Everyone in our group was already on the bus by the time Mr. Lo arrived.

I practiced for a long time, and I’m all ready for my piano recital tonight.

Among See between, among.

As See like, as.

EXERCISE 1 Identifying Correct Usage

In the following sentences, underline the correct word or words in parentheses.

EX. All the boys are in line (accept, except) Michael.

1. Zara (accepted, excepted) the nomination to become student council president.
2. Seth had a bad cold, but he's (all right, alright) now.
3. Suzi is packed and (already, all ready) to visit her aunt in Austin.
4. Because of the large crowd, there (ain't, aren't) many empty seats.
5. No school council members will be (accepted, excepted) from today's meeting.
6. By the time the waitress brought Rico's lasagna, I had (already, all ready) finished eating my lunch.
7. The store sold every copy of Amy Tan's latest book (accept, except) one.
8. Because I don't have to do (alot, a lot) of homework, I can go to the concert with you.
9. Did August (accept, except) the nomination for class officer?
10. Theresa read (alot, a lot) of Mariana's poems.

MODULE 12: A GLOSSARY OF USAGE

BETWEEN / HAD OUGHT

between, among Use between when referring to two people or things at a time. They may be part of a group consisting of more than two. Use among when referring to a group rather than to separate individuals. Typically, among is used when referring to more than two persons or things; between is typically used when referring to only two.

EXAMPLES I divided the work between Abdul and Jamie.
There isn't much difference between these two brands of soap.
The job of preparing and printing the programs was divided among six students.
[The six students are thought of as a group.]

bring, take Bring shows action directed toward the speaker or writer. Take shows action directed away from the speaker or writer. Think of bring as related to come and take as related to go.

EXAMPLES Bring the microphone to me.
Please take the piano stool with you.

bust, busted Avoid using these words in place of burst or break.

EXAMPLES A balloon bursts when stuck with a pin [not busts]
His glasses broke when he dropped them. [not busted] could of Do not use of with the helping verb could. Use have instead. Also avoid ought to of, should of, would of, might of, and must of.

EXAMPLE Tito's band could have performed all night. [not of] except See accept, except.

fewer, less Fewer is used with plural words. Less is used with singular words. Fewer tells "how many," and less tells "how much."

EXAMPLES Samantha told fewer jokes than she had planned.
There was less applause last night.

good, well Good is always an adjective. Never use good to modify a verb; use well, which is an adverb.

INCORRECT Marjorie and Paco sang their duet good.

CORRECT Marjorie and Paco sang their duet well.

NOTE Feel good and feel well mean different things. Feel good means “to feel happy or pleased.” Feel well means “to feel healthy.”

EXAMPLES Performing makes me feel good.
After eating the large meal, Paula did not feel well.

had ought, hadn’t ought Do not use had with the word ought.

INCORRECT The director had ought to give clearer directions to the cast.

CORRECT The director ought to give clearer directions to the cast.

EXERCISE 2 Revising Sentences by Correcting Errors in Usage

The sentences below contain errors in usage. Draw a line through each mistake and write the correction above it. Revise each sentence using standard English. [Note: A sentence may contain more than one error.]

EX. No one wanted to try the soup ^{except} ~~aecept~~ Willard.

MODULE 14: PUNCTUATION

END MARKS AND ABBREVIATIONS

An end mark is a mark of punctuation placed at the end of a sentence. Periods, question marks, and exclamation points are end marks.

14a Use a period at the end of a statement.

EXAMPLE A chef's salad usually contains meat, cheese, tomatoes, and greens.

14b Use a question mark at the end of a question.

EXAMPLE Did you call Kaloma yet?

14c Use an exclamation point at the end of an exclamation.

EXAMPLE What a wonderful dancer you are!

14d Use either a period or an exclamation point at the end of a request or a command.

EXAMPLES Please hold the door. [a request]
Open the door this instant! [a command]

14e Use periods after certain abbreviations.

Abbreviations with Periods
Personal Names	E. B. White, Livie I. Durán
Titles Used with Names	Mrs., Ms., Mr., Dr., Jr., Sr.
Organizations and Companies	Co., Inc., Assoc.
Addresses	St., Rd., Ave., Bldg.
Times	a.m., Oct., Fri.
Abbreviations Without Periods
Government Agencies	IRS, CIA, FBI
State Abbreviations	Seattle, WA 98009
Metric Units of Measure	kg, mm, cm
Certain Widely Used Abbreviations	NW, ATM, IQ, FM

NOTE If you are not sure whether to use periods with abbreviations, look in a dictionary.

EXERCISE 1 Adding End Marks to Sentences

Write the end mark that should appear at the end of each sentence below.

EX. Are you taking the bus or walking?

1. How brave those firefighters were

- _____ 7. at 13185 Mill Stone Dr
- _____ 8. outside the CIA building
- _____ 9. Lake Pleasant, NY 12108
- _____ 10. Sam Dole, Sr

MODULE 14: PUNCTUATION

COMMAS IN A SERIES

End marks are used to separate complete thoughts. Commas, however, are used to separate words or groups of words (phrases and clauses) within a complete thought.

14f Use commas to separate items in a series.

A series is a group of three or more items written one after another. The items in a series may be words, phrases, or clauses.

Words in a Series
Bread, cheese, and carrot sticks are in the basket.
The audience laughed, cried, and whistled.
Her trip was long, productive, and tiring.
Phrases in a Series
They learned to draw, to paint, and to sculpt.
People sat on tables, on chairs, and on the floor to hear him speak.
Dropped in cement, lost in high weeds, and run over by a truck, my lucky penny has seen some pretty hard times.
Clauses in a Series
I searched, I found, and I rejoiced.

14g Use a comma to separate two or more adjectives that describe the same noun.

To see whether a comma is needed, insert and between the adjectives. If and sounds awkward, don't use a comma.

EXAMPLES Your apartment is a cheerful, sunny place.

The letter was illustrated with small stick figures. [not small, stick figures]

EXERCISE 3 Proofreading Sentences for the Correct Use of Commas

Add or delete commas to correct the sentences below. If the sentence is correct, write C on the line before it.

EX. _____ Rafael's favorite activities are fishing, swimming, and watching TV.

- _____ 1. Yori Bob and I enjoyed watching the rodeo last Saturday.
- _____ 2. The actors wore large colorful masks made of wood.
- _____ 3. My favorite vegetables include corn, tomatoes, and spinach.
- _____ 4. Be sure to bring your bathing suit and a dry towel.
- _____ 5. Several teachers volunteered to cook to serve and to clean up after the dinner.
- _____ 6. The bus drove through Arkansas through Oklahoma and across Texas.
- _____ 7. The trees bent over, the telephone poles cracked, and the fence blew away during the hurricane.
- _____ 8. Someone extinguished the campfire covered it with sand and drenched it with water.
- _____ 9. My father used to carry an old black lunch pail to school.
- _____ 10. The Japanese gymnast was young strong and daring.
- _____ 11. I want to learn to speak French, Spanish, and Chinese.
- _____ 12. Hard work dedication and funding have made our project a success.
- _____ 13. The costumes they wore were long colorful robes.
- _____ 14. The clerk needs to know who you are where you live and when you moved here.
- _____ 15. We need new erasers, and more chalk.
- _____ 16. Have you been to her cool peaceful garden?
- _____ 17. I found ants in the drawers, on the countertops, and under the cabinet.
- _____ 18. The horse had a long, blond mane.
- _____ 19. In this river, you can fish for bass trout or sunfish.
- _____ 20. Where is a store that sells televisions surge protectors and adapters?

MODULE 14: PUNCTUATION

COMMAS WITH COMPOUND SENTENCES

14h Use a comma before and, but, for, or, nor, so, and yet when they join independent clauses in a compound sentence.

EXAMPLE Julius Lester rewrote the stories, and his publisher liked them.

When independent clauses are very short, the comma before and, but, or or may be omitted.

EXAMPLES Chuck left but I stayed.

The winds blew and the rain began.

NOTE Do not use a comma if for is used as a preposition. Only use a comma before for when it is used as a conjunction combining two independent clauses (usually in formal situations).

CONJUNCTION The dove is a universal symbol, for it is associated with peace.

PREPOSITION We went to the store for more drinks.

Don't be confused by a simple sentence with a compound verb. A simple sentence has only one independent clause.

SIMPLE SENTENCE WITH COMPOUND VERB I put gas in the car and then checked the oil.

COMPOUND SENTENCE I put gas in the car, and then I checked the oil.
[two independent clauses]

EXERCISE 4 Correcting Compound Sentences by Adding Commas

For each of the following sentences add commas where they belong. If the sentence is correct, write C on the line before it.

EX. _____ Vanilla is a great flavor, yet some people think it's boring.

- _____ 1. The contest will not take place until June but we already have four entries.
- _____ 2. Tree swallows can fly out of their nests and catch insects in midair.
- _____ 3. They brought no meat or fish nor did they miss either one.
- _____ 4. The bear sleeps during the winter and then comes out in the spring.
- _____ 5. Our cabin was simple but it had three rooms.
- _____ 6. People knew about the tomato yet they were afraid to eat it.
- _____ 7. Our class learned drawing techniques before our teacher had us start painting.
- _____ 8. The wind shifted, and it blew the rain in through our window.
- _____ 9. Janell drew the pictures but another artist wrote the words.
- _____ 10. We rested for an hour yet we were still tired.

EXERCISE 5 Combining Sentences

Rewrite each pair of sentences below as a single compound sentence. Use a comma and and, but, or, so, or yet.

EX. The sun was hot. The breeze was cool.
The sun was hot, but the breeze was cool.

1. I had plenty to eat. I still wanted fruit salad for desert.

2. My brother practices his violin every day. He is a wonderful musician.

3. I made dinner for my mother. My sister brought her flowers.

4. Janice plays soccer after school. She still does her homework.

5. You could walk in the park. You could walk on the beach.

6. It's supposed to rain today. The window is wide open.

7. My class will pick up trash from the schoolyard. We will return bottles for recycling.

8. Kieshia could enter her painting in the art show. She could enter her photographs.

9. The summer is going to be hot. I should go to the town pool often.

10. The restaurant was crowded Friday night. The service was still excellent.

MODULE 14: PUNCTUATION

COMMAS WITH SENTENCE INTERRUPTERS

14i Use commas to set off an expression that interrupts a sentence.

Two commas are needed if the expression to be set off comes in the middle of the sentence. One comma is needed if the expression comes first or last.

EXAMPLES Thomas Hart Benton, the artist, lived there.
 You know my cousin, of course.

14j Use commas to set off nonessential participial phrases and nonessential subordinate clauses.

A nonessential (or nonrestrictive) phrase or clause adds information that isn't needed to understand the meaning of the sentence.

NONESSENTIAL PHRASE The messenger arrived late, breathing rapidly.

NONESSENTIAL CLAUSE My necklace, which you admired last week, is made from fake gems and beads.

Do not set off essential (or restrictive) phrases or clauses. Since such a phrase or clause tells which one(s), it cannot be omitted without changing the meaning of the sentence.

ESSENTIAL PHRASE The dog lurking near our garage belongs to Tina. [Which dog?]

ESSENTIAL CLAUSE Tyrone returned the ring that I lost. [Which ring?]

NOTE A clause beginning with that is usually essential.

EXERCISE 6 Using Commas Correctly

The following sentences include an italicized phrase or clause. If the italicized phrase or clause is essential to the sentence, write E on the line before it. Write NE if the phrase or clause is nonessential. Insert commas where necessary.

- EX. NE 1. Washington, DC, our nation's capital, is an interesting city.
- _____ 1. The Empire State Building which is featured in that movie is in New York City.
- _____ 2. The book that I liked best is by Sandra Cisneros.
- _____ 3. The Monadnock Building in Chicago is a beautiful example of nineteenth-century public architecture.

- _____ 4. Massachusetts a small state in the Northeast had the first public schools in the American colonies.
- _____ 5. The plant that is in my room doesn't need much water.
- _____ 6. Mark Juneau who works on North Street is a talented hair stylist.
- _____ 7. The White Mountains which are located in New Hampshire are beautiful.
- _____ 8. The bird that you saw by the pond was a snowy egret.
- _____ 9. The bus driver who drives Bus 48 found my folder.
- _____ 10. Mt. Everest which is located on the border of Tibet and Nepal is the highest peak in the world.
- _____ 11. The highway that I talked about is closed.
- _____ 12. My aunt's car which is ten years old still runs well.
- _____ 13. Edgar Allan Poe who wrote many horror stories died at an early age.
- _____ 14. Is it the woman on my right who is governor?
- _____ 15. The dress that you sent fits me.
- _____ 16. This matter which is very private should not be discussed in public.
- _____ 17. The athlete who won the race was Gwen Torrence.
- _____ 18. Emma Willard who founded one of the earliest women's schools for higher education in the United States is an interesting subject for research.
- _____ 19. The school's track which needs repairs was built in 1972.
- _____ 20. Those who lost their tickets must wait outside.

OTHER USES OF THE COMMA

14k Use commas to set off appositives and appositive phrases that are nonessential.

An appositive is a noun or a pronoun used to explain or identify another noun or pronoun.

EXAMPLES Mel, our nextdoor neighbor, is also an old friend.

 Parts of Windsor Castle, one of the royal houses, can be visited by tourists.

Do not use commas to set off an appositive that is essential to the meaning of a sentence.

ESSENTIAL My brother Lorenzo finished the race first. [The speaker has more than one brother and must give a name to identify which brother.]

NONESSENTIAL My brother, Lorenzo, finished the race first. [The speaker has only one brother and is giving his name as added information.]

EXERCISE 7 Proofreading Sentences for the Correct Use of Commas and Appositives

For each of the following sentences, underline the appositive phrase. Add commas where needed. [Hint: Not all of the appositives will require commas.]

EX. The tree, a sequoia, is more than two hundred feet tall.

1. I asked Mr. Hatzidais my next-door neighbor about his hobby.
2. Did you know that Sophia my aunt used to have a beautiful tree in her yard?
3. The tree an American elm died of some disease.
4. Professor Smith-Rivera a biologist told me about the disease.
5. Did you know that Dutch elm disease a fungus can spread from tree to tree?

141 Use commas to set off words that are used in direct address.

EXAMPLES Akiva, here is a test tube.
 Let's see, Elton, where your seat is.
 I know you can do it, Riley.

14m Use commas to set off parenthetical expressions.

A parenthetical expression is a side remark that adds information or that relates ideas.

EXAMPLES This water bottle, I believe, is Casey's.
 For example, I donated six games to the toy drive.

EXERCISE 8 Correcting Sentences by Adding Commas

On the lines before each of the sentences below, write the parenthetical expressions. Include the needed commas.

EX. by the way Penicillin by the way is a kind of mold.

- _____ 1. Today Louise we know the value of penicillin.
- _____ 2. By 1940 however this mold became a new medicine.
- _____ 3. Alexander Fleming I believe was the scientist who discovered the mold used in making penicillin.
- _____ 4. To tell the truth I don't know why he even noticed it.
- _____ 5. However the mold had ruined one of Fleming's experiments.
- _____ 6. You know many scientists might have thrown out an experiment like this.
- _____ 7. In fact the mold had killed the bacteria in part of the experiment.
- _____ 8. Nevertheless Fleming took a second look.
- _____ 9. This second look in my opinion showed a true growth mindset.
- _____ 10. On the other hand perhaps any hard-working scientist would have done the same.

MODULE 14: PUNCTUATION

MORE USES OF THE COMMA

14n Use a comma after yes, no, or any mild exclamation, such as well or why, when it begins a sentence.

EXAMPLES Yes, your answer is correct.

Why, you are just the person I was looking for.

14o Use a comma after an introductory phrase.

EXAMPLES Starting next week, Mario will be the monitor.

At the end of the story, there was a small note about the character.

14p Use a comma after an introductory adverb clause.

An adverb clause that comes at the end of a sentence does not usually need a comma.

EXAMPLES Before you leave, please feed the dog.

 Please feed the dog before you leave.

14q Use commas to separate items in dates and addresses.

A comma separates the last item in a date or an address from the words that follow it. However, a comma does not separate a month and a day (December 5), a state and its ZIP Code (Utah 84767 or UT 84767), or a house number and its street name (6385 Cedarwood Place).

EXAMPLES On December 5, 2015, we left for Canada.

 I have lived at 6385 Cedarwood Place, Chico, California 95928, for eight years.

EXERCISE 9 Adding Commas with Introductory Elements

Identify where commas belong in each sentence below. On the line before each sentence, write the word that is missing a comma after it and add the comma. Some sentences are correct as is. If the sentence is correct, write a C on the line.

EX. store, In the store aisles were crammed with bargains.

- _____ 1. Shopping during the weekend I noticed many sales.
- _____ 2. Well most people pay more attention to nutrition now.
- _____ 3. In the chapter were many facts about food.
- _____ 4. When the weather is stormy our animals roam freely in the barn.
- _____ 5. At the end of one aisle I noticed a shelf of free pamphlets.
- _____ 6. The package from 101 Fifteenth Street Bradenton Florida 34206 must be from my uncle's store.
- _____ 7. During the week of January 3 2020 the owner gave free balloons to her customers.
- _____ 8. Because the bananas were soft Rory decided to make banana bread.
- _____ 9. You can bring your dog along if you want to.
- _____ 10. Around this time of day I get very hungry.

EXERCISE 10 Using Commas Correctly

In the sentences below, insert commas wherever they are needed.

EX. Nellie Ross was elected governor of Wyoming on November 4, 1924.

- 1. On May 24 1883 the Brooklyn Bridge opened.
- 2. You may write to me at 700 West State Street Burley ID 83318.
- 3. The Panama Canal first opened for shipping on August 15 1914 after years of hard work by many individuals.
- 4. We stopped in San Francisco California on our way to San Diego.
- 5. It wasn't until November 11 1918 that World War I finally ended.

MODULE 14: PUNCTUATION

REVIEW EXERCISE

A. Proofreading Sentences for the Correct Use of Commas

In the sentences below, insert commas where they are needed.

EX. We see, we hear, and we learn.

1. This book Marta is one that you should read.
2. It's about a doctor who worked in the country in several cities and on the battlefield.
3. Elizabeth Blackwell whom I admire was the doctor's name.
4. She must have been an intelligent determined woman.
5. She wanted to be a doctor but most schools would not train her.
6. Well it was hard for a woman to get a medical education then.
7. She went to medical school in Geneva New York in the 1840s.
8. She and Emily her sister both became doctors.
9. A doctor's life is varied challenging and rewarding.
10. If you would like to read about an interesting person choose a book about Elizabeth Blackwell a pioneering doctor.

B. Proofreading a Paragraph for Correct Use of Commas

In the following paragraph, insert commas where they are needed.

EX. Abi, have you ever heard of the Nazca Lines, which are in South America?

[1] The Nazca Lines huge drawings visible from the sky were made over 2000 years ago. [2] Known as geoglyphs these figures are carved into the surface of the earth. [3] The drawings cover nearly 200 square miles near the town of Nazca Peru. [4] The images include a hummingbird a monkey a whale trees flowers and geometric shapes. [5] Because the people who made them could not have viewed them from the air many people have speculated about their purpose. [6] Some people believe it or not even thought they might be evidence of extraterrestrials! [7] What could they be for I wonder? [8] Walking the paths of the drawings people say is an amazing experience. [9] The dry climate in their location southern Peru has preserved the drawings for centuries. [10] UNESCO part of the United Nations recognized the significance of the Nazca Lines by declaring it a World Heritage site.

C. Writing Notes for an Article

The new Time Travel Amusement Park is opening in your city. Your local newspaper wants you to write a feature article about the opening day. As you walk through the park, you listen to people talking. Imagine and write down their comments and impressions about exhibits, as well as your own thoughts.

1. Think about what exhibits might fill the Time Travel Amusement Park. Research or invent locations and dates of the exhibits.
2. Create at least five sentences about the park. You might want to include things that you overhear and your thoughts about what you see. Include sentences with introductory words and phrases, interrupters, appositives, direct address, or parenthetical expressions.
3. Be sure that your sentences include all necessary commas.

EX. For opening day, crowds of people lined up inside the park gate.
Look, there's a spacecraft and a skywalk!

MODULE 14: PUNCTUATION

SEMICOLONS

A semicolon looks like a combination of a period and a comma, and that is just what it is. A semicolon separates complete thoughts as a period does. A semicolon also separates items within a sentence as a comma does.

14r Use a semicolon to join two independent clauses.

EXAMPLES Maya looked outside and sighed; rain was still falling.
 The train pulled into the station; only one person got out.

14s Use a semicolon before a coordinating conjunction to join independent clauses that contain commas.

CONFUSING I brought lettuce, tomatoes, and carrots, but bread, milk, and cheese were donated.

CLEAR I brought lettuce, tomatoes, and carrots; but bread, milk, and cheese were donated.

NOTE Semicolons are most effective when they are not overused. Sometimes it is better to separate a compound sentence or a heavily punctuated sentence into two sentences rather than use a semicolon.

ACCEPTABLE The wind blows the sand around and causes the grains to rub against each other; the constant rubbing gradually shapes each grain, making it rounder as time goes on.

BETTER The wind blows the sand around and causes the grains to rub against each other. The constant rubbing gradually shapes each grain, making it rounder as time goes on.

EXERCISE 11 Using Semicolons Correctly

On the lines before each of the sentences below, write the words before and after the missing semicolon. Insert a semicolon between these words.

EX. yet; I'm I haven't posted my dance video yet I'm nervous about sharing it.

- _____ 1. Let's have the picnic in the evening it's too hot earlier.
- _____ 2. I spent all weekend finishing the project that's why I didn't text you back.
- _____ 3. My dog is so funny she barks when she's dreaming.
- _____ 4. The fall play will be a musical I'm practicing a song for my audition.
- _____ 5. Our reading assignment is a choice novel we can pick a book from a long list of options.
- _____ 6. I can't hang out this weekend my aunt is visiting from Mexico.
- _____ 7. Lots of people were late to school today because they missed their alarms the power went out last night.
- _____ 8. My favorite white t-shirt is now pink it accidentally got washed with my red soccer socks.
- _____ 9. The birds in this area are varied for example we see parakeets, hummingbirds, cardinals, and painted buntings.
- _____ 10. That's a great climbing tree it has lots of low horizontal branches.

COLONS

14t Use a colon before a list of items, especially after expressions such as the following or as follows.

EXAMPLES Please bring these items to the day camp: a towel, a hat, a swimsuit, and a water bottle.

We will provide the following: healthy snacks, a lunch, sunscreen, and craft supplies.

Never use a colon directly after a verb or a preposition. Omit the colon, or reword the sentence.

INCORRECT In the next exhibit, look at: the pond, the shore, the high grass, and the sand.

CORRECT In the next exhibit, look at these areas: the pond, the shore, the high grass, and the sand.

14u Use a colon between the hour and the minute.

EXAMPLE It is now 3:30 p.m. We will leave at 6:00 a.m.

14v Use a colon after the salutation of a business letter.

EXAMPLE Dear Dr. Gaetano: Dear Reference Librarian:

EXERCISE 12 Using Colons and Commas Correctly

On the line below each of the following incomplete sentences, write a complete sentence by adding the information suggested in brackets. Insert colons and commas where they are needed. [Hint: before a list of items, you might need to add words such as the following.]

EX. My favorite show begins at [time].
My favorite show begins at 8:00 p.m.

1. We have visited these stores [list].

2. I go to bed at [time].

3. "[salutation]" is the greeting line of this business letter.

4. I am going to the park to exercise with Dakota, and I'll be home at [time].

5. Jennifer gave invitations to these people [list].

B. Using End Marks, Commas, Semicolons, and Colons Correctly in a Paragraph

The sentences in the following paragraph need end marks, commas, semicolons, or colons. Add the missing punctuation.

Tucked away in the backyard of an ordinary house in an ordinary Austin Texas neighborhood is something extraordinary Known as the Cathedral of Junk the enormous work of art has grown and changed over three decades The many-roomed tower is built entirely from junk for example it includes dolls crutches musical instruments and pieces of decorative railings It's surprising to think that something so big and elaborate is the work of only one person Over the years its builder Vince Hannemann has faced many obstacles complaints from neighbors concerns about safety and his lack of free time to build The structure is stronger than people might expect however Would you believe it can withstand hurricane-force winds It's amazing I think that places like this exist

C. Proofreading a Letter

Some parts of the letter below need end marks, commas, semicolons, or colons. Add the missing punctuation marks.

ITALICS

Italics are printed letters that lean to the right—like this. If your work is handwritten, you show that a word should be italicized by underlining it.

15a Use italics for titles of books, plays, periodicals, films, television programs, works of art, long musical compositions, and ships.

Type of Name	Examples
Books	The Hobbit, Dear Martin
Plays	The Hitchhiker, Lost in Yonkers
Periodicals	Newsweek, the Atlanta Journal-Constitution
Films	Dream Horse, Hidden Figures
Television Programs	Ms. Marvel, Stranger Things
Works of Art	Infinity Mirrors, Forever Bicycles
Long Musical Compositions	Renaissance, Appalachian Spring
Ships	the Lusitania, the USS Constitution

NOTE Names of aircraft, trains, and spacecraft are capitalized but not italicized.

EXAMPLE Air Force One, Acela Express

NOTE The article the is often written before a title but is not capitalized unless it is part of the official title.

EXAMPLE I agreed with the editorial in The Denver Post.

15b Use italics for words, letters, and figures referred to as such.

EXAMPLES The word mask has several meanings.

Do you know a word that contains the vowels a, e, i, o, and u?

Write an 8 in the last column.

EXERCISE 1 Using Italics (Underlining) Correctly

For each sentence below, underline each word or item that should be italicized.

EX. Willy has the lead role in Fiddler on the Roof.

1. I read the last module of Barrio Boy for homework.
2. A popular television show in the 1950s was I Love Lucy.
3. Yesterday, the San Francisco Examiner had an informative article about electric vehicles.
4. Annie misspelled the word license in her report.
5. Winslow Homer's painting Snap the Whip is displayed at the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

6. In English class, we watched the film To Kill a Mockingbird.
7. Mozart composed the score for the opera The Marriage of Figaro.
8. Is there one p in the name Mississippi?
9. The play Raisin in the Sun was written by Lorraine Hansberry.
10. In 2021, the ship Ever Given ran aground and blocked the Suez Canal for nearly a week.

EXERCISE 2 Proofreading a Paragraph for the Correct Use of Italics

In the paragraph below, underline each word or item that should be italicized.

EX. We went to the space museum and saw an exhibition about New Horizons.

[1] Darryl and I looked through The Boston Globe and The Salem News. [2] This weekend we could see the play Our Town or the ballet version of Romeo and Juliet. [3] I had read a book called The Art of Thornton Wilder about Our Town’s writer. [4] Of course, we could stay home and watch an episode of Nature that is on television tonight. [5] We finally decided to take a ride on a ship called the Spirit of Boston.

MODULE 15: PUNCTUATION

QUOTATION MARKS

15c Use quotation marks to enclose a direct quotation—a person’s exact words.

Be sure to place quotation marks both before and after a person’s exact words.

EXAMPLES In Poor Richard’s Almanack, Ben Franklin advised his readers, “Early to bed and early to rise, makes a man healthy, wealthy, and wise.”

“Do you know what you would do,” asked the guide, “if you came face to face with a big bear?”

15d A direct quotation begins with a capital letter.

EXAMPLES Emilio said, “A place I’d like to visit is the Volcán Santiago National Park in Nicaragua.”

In a book about the early history of the Americas, the author states, “People made clay popcorn poppers two thousand years ago.”

EXAMPLES “The village,” explained Kali, “is surrounded by rice fields and farmland.”

“When you leave the house,” added Chris, “lock the door.”

A quoted sentence that is divided in this way is called a broken quotation. Notice that each part of a broken quotation is enclosed in a set of quotation marks. When the second part of a divided quotation is a sentence, it begins with a capital letter.

EXAMPLE “Sit down,” directed Taylor. “The concert is about to begin.”

15f A direct quotation is set off from the rest of the sentence by a comma, a question mark, or an exclamation point. Only use a period if the quotation ends the sentence.

EXAMPLES Shane said, “We’re studying rain forests.”

“Everyone should learn about them,” suggested Alexis.

“Why are they so important?” asked Jalene.

“Rain forests teem with life!” exclaimed Vincent.

15g A period or a comma should always be placed inside the closing quotation marks.

EXAMPLES Mateo replied, "My appointment is next week."

"I'm going for my yearly checkup today," said Gina.

15h A question mark or an exclamation point should be placed inside the closing quotation marks when the quotation itself is a question or an exclamation. Otherwise, it should be placed outside.

EXAMPLES "Where is the trail?" asked the hiker. [The quotation is a question.]

Who said, "Drafts cause colds"? [The sentence, not the quotation, is a question.]

When both the sentence and a quotation at the end of the sentence are questions (or exclamations), only one question mark (or exclamation point) is used. It is placed inside the closing quotation marks.

EXAMPLE Did Kayla ask, "How do I get to Central Park from here?"

EXERCISE 3 Punctuating Quotations

For each sentence below, insert quotation marks and other marks of punctuation where needed.

EX. "This year," said Chen, "is going to be the Year of the Dragon."

1. Lim Sing is looking forward to the Festival of Lanterns said her father
2. Chen replied I received calendars from relatives in Hong Kong
3. If you look closely at them he explained you can see each day's lunar date written in Chinese.
4. Will you help me cook the special roasted seeds and dried fruits Mother bought for the New Year's meal asked Lim Sing
5. Wow exclaimed Chen This celebration is my favorite time of the year

15i When you write dialogue (conversation), begin a new paragraph every time the speaker changes.

EXAMPLE The clerk smiled up at Luis. "Can I help you?"
 "I'm here to file my paperwork to run for office," he nervously replied.
 "Let's see what you have," she said, reaching for the papers. "It looks like everything is in order."
 Luis breathed a sigh of relief and said, "I've never done this before."
 "Well, you've done the first step," the clerk reassured him. "Good luck!"

15j When a quotation consists of several sentences, put quotation marks only at the beginning and the end of the whole quotation.

EXAMPLE "The fundamentals are what matter the most! Are your free throws going into the basket 100% of the time? If not, you need more practice," urged Coach Hobbs.

15k Use single quotation marks to enclose a quotation within a quotation.

EXAMPLE Seth explained, "The photographer said, 'You must observe the world around you very closely.'"

15l Use quotation marks to enclose the titles of short works such as short stories, poems, articles, songs, and episodes that are part of a television, radio, or podcast series.

EXAMPLES Countee Cullen's poem "Incident" describes a child's experience of racism.
 Will you sing "America the Beautiful" at the assembly?

EXERCISE 4 Punctuating Quotations

Insert quotation marks where needed in each of the following sentences.

EX. "Read the module 'Edge of the Sea' for homework," said Mrs. Zayas.

1. Last night I read the story The Last Leaf to my sister, said Nora.
2. Marian Anderson once sang America at the Lincoln Memorial.
3. Who said, An apple a day keeps the doctor away? asked Meli.
4. Mr. Ryder said, The last module in Anne of Avonlea is A Wedding at the Stone House.
5. Sarah said, This will be a busy weekend. We are planting beach grass on the dunes to hold the sand in place. The grass will also help the dunes grow higher.

EXERCISE 5 Punctuating Paragraphs

Rewrite the paragraph below, using quotation marks and other marks of punctuation wherever necessary. Remember to begin a new paragraph each time the speaker changes. [Note: The punctuation marks that are already included in the exercise are correct.]

EX. I wish I didn't have a summer birthday! exclaimed Ayesha.

"I wish I didn't have a summer birthday!" exclaimed Ayesha.

[1] It's so hard to plan a party when everyone is on summer break, lamented Ayesha. [2] And it's always so hot, too. [3] Well, interjected her friend Erin, at least you don't have to go to school on your birthday! [4] True, replied Ayesha thoughtfully. [5] That's definitely nice. [6] And, Erin added, your birthday is a great excuse to get together over the break, even if it isn't for a big party. [7] Ayesha suddenly smiled. [8] You're right, she exclaimed. [9] I can have a bunch of small get-togethers instead of one big party. [10] Yes, Erin laughed, you can make it a birth-month celebration!

MODULE 15: PUNCTUATION

APOSTROPHE

The possessive case of a noun or a pronoun shows ownership or relationship.

Ownership	Relationship
Lenny's desk	a week's pay
the player's score	our parents her sweater	cat's paw
everyone's test	two cents' worth

15m To form the possessive case of a singular noun, add an apostrophe and an s.

EXAMPLES the man's shirt Georgia's painting a friend's house Gary's idea

NOTE Add 's to singular nouns that are possessive, even if a proper noun ends in s.

EXAMPLES Kansas's parks Frances's birthday the bus's wheels

15n To form the possessive case of a plural noun ending in s, add only the apostrophe.

EXAMPLES friends' names two years' practice two enemies' plans wolves' tracks the Ryans' cottage artists' paintings

15o To form the possessive case of a plural noun that does not end in s, add an apostrophe and an s.

EXAMPLES women's suits people's faces children's books deer's tails geese's wings moose's antlers

NOTE Do not use an apostrophe to form the plural of a noun. Remember that the apostrophe shows ownership or relationship.

INCORRECT Two girls' have red coats.

CORRECT Two girls have red coats.

CORRECT The two girls' coats are red.

15p Do not use an apostrophe with possessive personal pronouns.

EXAMPLES Is that dog theirs?
 Is the pen his or hers?

EXERCISE 6 Using Apostrophes for Singular Possessives

In each sentence in the paragraph below, underline the word that needs an apostrophe, and insert the apostrophe.

EX. The Spanish galleon was one of the world's greatest ships.

[1] A sailors life on a galleon was hard and uncomfortable. [2] The captains orders had to be obeyed without question. [3] On a voyage, a mariners strength and courage were put to the test. [4] A single days work left all on board exhausted. [5] Sailors raised the galleons sails by pulling on heavy ropes. [6] If the wind picked up, the sails had to be lowered without a moments delay. [7] While the ship rolled violently, sailors climbed the masts rigging. [8] In rough seas, the ships timbers moved. [9] Often, the hulls seams opened, letting in a flood of water. [10] Because the crews sleeping quarters were below the waterline, sailors often had to sleep in wet, smelly bunks.

EXERCISE 7 Writing Possessives

Rewrite each of the expressions below by using the possessive case. Be sure to insert apostrophes in the right places.

EX. the records of the singer

the singer's records

1. the tools of the carpenters

2. the tails of the mice

3. the towel that belongs to Fatima

4. the office of the coach

5. the toys of the children

MODULE 15: PUNCTUATION

OTHER USES OF THE APOSTROPHE

A contraction is a shortened form of a word, a number, or a group of words.

15q Use an apostrophe to show where letters, numbers, or words have been omitted (left out) in a contraction.

Common Contractions
I am.....	I'm	where is	where's
let us	let's	we are	we're she would.....	she'd	he is	he's they had	they'd	you will	you'll

The word not can be shortened to n't and added to a verb, usually without any change in the spelling of the verb.

EXAMPLES is not..... isn't has not..... hasn't does not..... doesn't would not wouldn't

EXCEPTIONS will not..... won't cannot..... can't

Be careful not to confuse contractions with possessive pronouns.

Contractions	Possessive Pronouns
It's your book.	Its tail is long and bushy.
You're early.	Your dinner is ready.
They're here.	Their name is Yahada.
There's Mom.	That book is theirs .

15r Use an apostrophe and an s to form the plurals of letters.

EXAMPLES I sometimes write g's for q's.
 This semester Evey earned all A's and B's.

15s Use only an s to form the plurals of numbers or abbreviations.

EXAMPLES I love listening to music from the 1980s.
 Her dives were nearly perfect—she scored mostly 9s.

EXERCISE 8 Using Apostrophes in Contractions Correctly

For each of the sentences below, underline the word or words requiring an apostrophe, and insert the apostrophe. If the sentence is correct, write C on the line before the sentence.

EX. _____ You can't believe everything you read or hear.

- _____ 1. Should you drink water while youre exercising?
- _____ 2. Some people think they shouldnt drink any liquids.
- _____ 3. They think water will bloat them, and they won't be able to run fast.
- _____ 4. You musnt pay any attention to these people because theyre mistaken.
- _____ 5. Now well find out why.
- _____ 6. When you're running or exercising hard, your body loses fluids very quickly.
- _____ 7. Youll get sick or even faint if you get dehydrated.
- _____ 8. Lets use some common sense.
- _____ 9. Dont forget to replace the missing fluids.
- _____ 10. The next time youre playing hard, drink some water.

EXERCISE 9 Writing Contractions

On the line before each sentence, write a contraction for each italicized word or word pair.

EX. we're In biology class, we are studying life in the oceans.

- _____ 1. Sunlight cannot reach the depths of the ocean.
- _____ 2. Because there is no light near the ocean floor, many animals that live in the deep ocean create their own light, like fireflies.
- _____ 3. What is the strangest creature in the deep ocean?
- _____ 4. I am convinced that the oddest of them all is the angler fish.
- _____ 5. It is able to attract prey using a dorsal fin that dangles above its mouth.

10. Do you agree with the old saying, Beauty is in the eye of the beholder? _____

MODULE 16: SPELLING

THE DICTIONARY

A dictionary entry is divided into several parts. Study the parts of the following sample dictionary entry:

① emp•ty (emp'te), ② adj., ③ -ti•er, ④ -ti•est, ③ v., ④ -tied, -ty•ing
⑤
[Old English æmtig < æmetta, leisure]
⑥ 1. containing nothing [an empty bag] ⑦ 2. Unoccupied [an empty house]
3. meaningless [an empty promise] 4. foolish 5. hungry v.t. 1. pour out the contents of ⑧
v.i. 1. become empty 2. flow out -emp'ti•ly, adv. -emp'ti•ness, n.
⑨
SYN. Empty, vacant, and blank mean "containing or occupied by nothing or no one." Empty means "with nothing or with no one in it." Vacant means "not occupied." Blank means "not written on."

1. Entry word. The entry word shows the correct spelling of the word. An alternate spelling may also be shown. The entry word shows how the word should be divided into syllables and may also show if the word should be capitalized.
2. Pronunciation. The pronunciation is shown using accent marks, phonetic symbols, or diacritical marks. Each phonetic symbol represents a specific sound. Diacritical marks are special symbols placed above letters to show how those letters sound. Every dictionary provides a guide to the symbols and marks it uses. Many online dictionaries feature audio to hear the correct pronunciation of the word.
3. Part-of-speech labels. Some words may be used as more than one part of speech. In this case, a part-of-speech label is also given before the set of definitions that matches each label. In the sample entry, empty can be used as an adjective or a verb, depending on the meaning.
4. Other forms. Sometimes a dictionary shows spellings of plural forms of nouns, tenses of verbs, or the comparative forms of adjectives and adverbs.

5. Etymology. The etymology tells about the historical development of a word, by determining its basic elements. In the sample entry, empty comes from the Old English. The etymology also shows how the word has changed over time.
6. Definitions. If there is more than one meaning, definitions are numbered or lettered.
7. Sample usage. Some dictionaries include sample phrases to illustrate particular meanings of words.
8. Related word forms. These are forms of the entry word created by adding suffixes or prefixes. Sometimes dictionaries also list common phrases in which the word appears.
9. Synonyms and antonyms. Words similar in meaning are synonyms. Words opposite in meaning are antonyms. Many dictionaries list synonyms and antonyms at the end of some word entries.

EXERCISE 1 Using a Dictionary

Use a dictionary to answer the questions below.

- EX. How many syllables are in the word indignation? four
1. How is the word serious divided into syllables? _____

PREFIXES AND SUFFIXES

A prefix is a letter or a group of letters added to the beginning of a word to change its meaning.
A suffix is a letter or a group of letters added to the end of a word to change its meaning.

16d When adding a prefix to a word, do not change the spelling of the word itself.

EXAMPLES mis + place = misplace dis + satisfy = dissatisfy un + happy = unhappy im + mortal = immortal

16e When adding the suffix -ness or -ly to a word, do not change the spelling of the word itself.

EXAMPLES thick + ness = thickness dry + ness = dryness week + ly = weekly soft + ly = softly

EXCEPTION For most words that end in y, change the y to i before -ly or -ness.
EXAMPLES sloppy + ness = sloppiness easy + ly = easily

16f Drop the final silent e before a suffix beginning with a vowel.

Vowels are the letters a, e, i, o, u, and sometimes y. All other letters of the alphabet are consonants.

EXAMPLES large + est = largest write + ing = writing like + able = likable slice + er = slicer
